Terhune, Dray City School Board Choices

The city of Washington C. H. elected two new councilmen and a new school board member Tuesday.

City voters also overwhelmingly approved renewal of a 2-mill school operating levy.

Ben Norris and Walter Morrow, incumbent councilmen, were returned to office, and city voters also chose James Shoemaker and Joseph F. Loudner from the 11-man slate of candidates. Loudner edged out veteran Councilman Floyd Tracy by a margin of 57 votes.

* * *

ROBERT TERHUNE, president of the Washington C. H. Board of Education, won reelection by a large margin, and Stanley Dray was named to replace William Lovell who was not a candidate for another term.

Both Council and school board members serve four-year terms. New terms begin Jan. 1.

Councilman Norris, seeking his second term, led the legislative ticket with 1,164 votes; Shoemaker, a newcomer to the field, finished second with 1,159; Morrow, appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Paul Van Voorhis, was third with 1,021.

* * *

LOUDNER received 886 votes; Tracy, 829; Ferrel V. Smith, 785; John D. Murphy, 617; Chester Trout, 588; Glenn B. Flint, 409; Ernest Merritt, 386, and John D. Carr, 327.

The school levy renewal (for five years) passed by a vote of 1,442 votes to 781.

Its fate was never in doubt, and it carried all but two of the 19 city precincts. These were 1-D and 1-E.

Pro-Miami Trace Candidates Elected

Miami Trace School District voters gave a resounding endorsement to five candidates pledge to build a new rural high school and approved a 2-mill operating levy by a majority of more than 55 per cent at the polls Tuesday.

Named to four-year terms on the county board of education were Eugene Avey, Floyd M. Hoppes and H. B. Lightle, the latter an incumbent.

Board members Hugh B. Sollars and Nathaniel Tway, whose terms expire this year, were not candidates for reelection. Other board members are Cloyd Craig and Carroll Ritenour.

Hoppes presently is a member of the Fayette County Citizens Committee.

* * *

RETURNED to four-year terms on the Miami Trace Board of Education were J. Herbert Perrill and Robert T. Owens. Other Miami Trace board members are Taylor Groff, president; Gordon Cowdery and Richard Snyder.

The 2-mill Miami Trace District levy was approved by an unofficial margin of 1,640 to 1,310. It carried in 21 of the 26 rural precincts.

A simple majority was required for passage.

The levy failed to win majorities only in Jefferson East, Jefferson South, Jeffersonville A, Milledgeville and Union West precincts, the latter rejecting the levy by a vote of 159 to 83.

There was a tie vote in Union South.

* * *

TOTALS for county school board candidates were as follows: Hoppes, 1,709; Avey, 1,629; Lightle, 1,603; Leonard E. Allen, 1,221; Jess Schlichter, 1,208, and Richard Babb 1,166.

Totals for Miami Trace board candidates were: Perrill, 1,588; Owens, 1,559; Alfred Hagler, 1,090, and Ralph N. Agle, 1,024.

The two Miami Trace candidates received 60 per cent of the total vote cast and the administration candidates for county board 58 per cent.

O'Neill Amendment Fails In Ohio Voting Tuesday

COLUMBUS (AP)—Tuesday's voters rejected an O'Neill administration-backed change in the Ohio Constitution for appointment of non-residents to public office, but apparently approved two other amendments.

One would permit Ohio residents of less than one year to vote for President and vice president in quadrennial elections. The other would make it easier to establish a county charter form of government.

Observers termed defeat of the proposal for appointment of outsiders to non-elective offices a slap at Gov. C. William O'Neill. The governor imported a man to direct Ohio's $2 billion highway construction program and sought others for his Cabinet.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown reported these unofficial totals for all of Ohio's 12,459 polling places:

Amendment No. 1, to eliminate the one-year residence requirement for public office appointees: Yes 701,808, No 1,040,658.

Amendment No. 2, to remove one-year residence requirement for eligibility to vote for president: Yes 1,069,261, No 659,432.

Amendment No. 3, modifying procedure for adoption of county-charter government: Yes 832,454, No 799,693.

* * *

Interest in the constitutional amendments and about 1,500 local issues vied for the attention of voters with races by candidates for city, village, township and other offices in generally light balloting.

Returns showed 18 counties favoring amendment No. 3, most of them by narrow margins. Fulton County gave it a three-vote edge.

Five counties voted no on all three proposals. They are Monroe, Gallia, Morgan, Noble and Vinton, all predominantly rural. Tuscarawas County in eastern Ohio was the only county listed as voting yes on amendment No. 1 to eliminate the one-year appointment re-

Little Rock Segregation Slate Loses

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A slate of candidates who remained publicly neutral on the racial issue Tuesday captured six out of seven Little Rock city director positions over segregationist opponents on the basis of complete but unofficial returns.

The slate had been backed by the Good Government Committee, a group which had initiated the fight toward a change from the mayor-council to the city manager form of government months before the racial integration crisis at Little Rock Central High School.

Only one of seven candidates backed by the Capital Citizens Council was successful and three of the races were not decided until the final box was tabulated early today.

The Good Government Committee had declared that the racial issue had nothing to do with the campaign, but the Citizens Council group sharply criticized the GGC candidates and focused attention on integration.

Russians Ready Military Show

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's military parade Thursday will be heavy on rockets, but there will still be enough heavy guns and clanking-treads to delight old soldiers.

The march through Red Square will unveil not only a number of giant guided missiles but a whole family of new tanks and rocket launchers.

Thus far aerial rehearsals have shown no new equipment. But if current foggy weather changes sufficiently, Russian fliers certainly will demonstrate a number of new models, including some speed turbo-prop transports.

The sun broke through at noon today after three days of almost constant fog, raising hopes that there might be a parade flypast of new planes.

There are rocket launchers galore. One model is mounted on a tank chassis and one amphibious type appears capable of handling rockets with 20-inch warheads.

UPPER SANDUSKY (AP)—Maybe a Crane Twp. voter could not spell or maybe he—or she — meant it just the way it sounded.

Democrats Sweep Significant Races

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrats swept most significant races Tuesday in an off-year election interpreted as indicating a measure of dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration's policies.

Democrats won the big ones by victories in the governor races in New Jersey and Virginia and in the reelection of Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City.

Although none could assess accurately the political effect of the firing of two Soviet satellites, there was general opinion this admitted American setback contributed to what could only be regarded as a Democratic sweep.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler summed up the national results as an indication that the voters "are returning to the Democratic party for leadership in a time of crisis."

* * *

IT SEEMED apparent the Democrats had cashed in to some extent on what Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate's Democratic leader, reported was the greatest indication he had ever received that the American people were "worked up" over the Russian ability to put satellites into space while the United States only talked about it.

Republicans had scant hopes of winning any significant test in Tuesday's balloting. They faced a.. off-year election trend that usually goes against the party in control of the White House. But some GOP members had hoped their candidates might do better than they did.

In one of the top contests, Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey scored a 200,000-vote margin over his Eisenhower-endorsed opponent, GOP State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes. Eisenhower thus was denied the "big shot in the arm" he said a Forbes victory would give certain Republicans.

Meyner's victory propelled him into the contest for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination with all the force of a Russian satellite. His reelection in a normally Republican state seemed likely to set off a second - stage rocket for any presidential ambitions he holds.

Domestically, the Eisenhower administration got an answer from Virginia to the President's action in sending federal troops into Little Rock, Ark., to enforce a federal court order for racial school integration.

* * *

REPUBLICAN Theodore Roosevelt (Ted) Dalton was snowed under in the Virginia governor's race by State Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. Dalton polled 45 per cent of the vote in normally Democratic Virginia in his first try four years ago. He receives less than 37 per cent Tuesday.

Almond was backed vigorously by the state organization of Democratic Sen. Harry F. Byrd, who has called for "massive resistance" to school integration.

Union Township Backs Cemetery Bond Proposal

Fayette Countians turned down a proposal to enlarge Memorial Hospital and expand its facilities and a request for a tax of .65 of a mill for operating expenses.

At the same time, however, they approved another bond issue and four other tax levies. The total vote was 5,780 — comparatively light. The vote in the 1955 off-year election was 6,199.

Washington C. H. voters approved the renewal of the 2 - mill, 5 year levy for current school expenses by a whopping 1,442 to 781 majority and those outside the city approved an additional 2 - mill, 3-year levy for operating expenses of the Miami Trace schools.

Union Township voters passed an $8,000 bond issue for their share of enlarging and improving the Washington C. H.-Union Cemetery by a vote of 293 to 227. That was a 56 per cent favorable vote, and 55 per cent was required for passage.

Union Township residents also approved a levy of .75 of a mill for five years for fire protection by a vote of 354 to 164. Only a majority was required.

* * *

RESIDENTS of Perry Township approved a fire protection levy by a convincing majority. It was for .5 of a mill for five years and the vote was 129 to 41.

Judge Max G. Dice was given a complimentary vote of 4,695 as the voters returned him to the bench of the Municipal Court. Now, for the first time, the court will serve the whole of the county. Until the last session of the Ohio Legislature amended the law to abolish justices of the peace, the Municipal Court here had no jurisdiction in Jeffersonville or Jefferson Township.

Councils were elected in Washington C. H. and the four villages — Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Milledgeville and Octa. With the exception of Octa, where the six candidates were unopposed, the voters had unusually big fields from which to choose.

The four villages also elected mayors and clerks and Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville elected boards of public affairs (principally to run their waterworks). Only Jeffersonville will have a change in the mayor's office; Oscar Fannin was elected to succeed Russell Mitchell, the incumbent. Mayors of the other three villages were re-elected.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles held an extraordinary meeting today with a half dozen men who were officials and foreign policy experts in the Truman administration. The purpose was to discuss plans and seek ideas for U. S. proposals to the North Atlantic summit meeting in Paris in December.

One of the group was Paul H. Nitze, who served as chief of the policy planning staff under Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Nitze is now associated with the Foreign Service Education Foundation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Harvard astronomer says mysterious objects reported from various parts of the country and the Gulf of Mexico are mirages stemming from natural causes.

Dr. Donald H. Menzel, director of the Harvard College of Observatory, said Tuesday in Cambridge, Mass., that the whole thing amounts to "another flying saucer scare."

TOLEDO (AP) — Toledo's 21-year-old city manager system won a strong victory at the polls Tuesday.

A Democrat-backed proposal to amend the city charter to provide for a strong mayor form of government was defeated 57,592 to 24,783 and candidates endorsed by the local City Managers League won eight of nine council seats.

WHITE SANDS, N. M. (AP)—The Navy says two types of its Talos missile were fired successfully against airborne targets Tuesday.

Khrushchev Calls for New East-West High-Level Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev called again today for a "high level" East-West meeting to seek an end to world tensions.

Speaking at a joint jubilee session of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's parliament, Khrushchev declared:

"We should like to have a high level meeting of representatives of capitalist and socialist countries so as to reach agreement on excluding war as a means of solving political questions."

At the same time the party chief repeated the recent Soviet charges that the "Americans are plotting against Syria, and inciting Israel and Turkey to provocation."

Earlier, in high spirits over Russia's lead in the space satellite race, he called on the United States and other nations to send up baby moons to join Russia's in a "commonwealth of Sputniks."

* * *

KHRUSHCHEV predicted the Soviet Union could exceed America's volume of production in the next 15 years. He said the requirements of the Soviet people could be satisfied in five to seven years without curtailing military production and heavy industry, and that the housing shortage would be licked in 10 to 12 years.

Khrushchev also condemned the NATO summit meeting in Paris in December which President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and other Western heads of state will attend. The Soviet chief said that meeting "promises nothing good in the cause of peace."

Khrushchev leveled a specific blast at U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, declaring: "By keeping the world on the brink of war, as Dulles put it, the imperialists are trying to make favorable conditions for the imperialist monopolies."

The Soviet leader spoke for three hours and seven minutes to 17,000 persons jamming Moscow's giant Sports Palace. His audience, which gave him a standing ovation as he entered with Red China's Mao Tze-tung, included leaders from all over the Communist world on hand for the 40th anniversary Thursday of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Dry Forces Show Gains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dry forces won most of the local option elections in Ohio Tuesday.

Jefferson Township of Scioto County, one of the county's few remaining wet areas, voted to go dry. In the same county, Green Township defeated a proposal to restore sale of 3.2 beer.

Democrats Score Significant Gains In Various Ohio Municipal Elections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrats scored significant gains in municipal elections throughout Ohio Tuesday, including a few spectacular upsets in what were once Republican strongholds.

Democrats gained control of the Columbus City Council for the first time in 13 years by defeating all three incumbent GOP councilmen. The new council will line up four Democrats and three Republicans.

The capital city already has a Democratic mayor, M. E. Sensenbrenner, who was not up for election this year, but who had stumped vigorously for the Democratic candidates. Sensenbrenner, a native of Circleville, already has his hat in the ring for the Democratic nomination for governor in next year's election.

The result of the Columbus city election was seen by some as an indication of Sensenbrenner's prowess as a vote-getter.

In Reading, a Cincinnati suburb, a 16-year Republican reign was ended when the Democrats captured 11 city offices.

Early returns from Cincinnati showed Charles P. Taft, a Charter candidate, heading the list of aspirants for City Council. Two other Charter candidates, John J. Gillican and Vincent H. Beckman, held second and third place.

But GOP candidates held five places in the top nine on the basis of early returns. The Charter Party is a combination of liberal Republicans and Democrats.

Statewide, the Democrats increased their number of mayoralities at the expense of the Republicans. They took about twice the number of seats away from the GOP as the Republicans won from the Democrats.

Democratic victories included wins in long-time GOP strongholds such as Chillicothe and Bowling Green. In Bowling Green, Democrat Clarence W. Dick defeated incumbent Republican Mayor Lorin H. Janzer. And in Chillicothe Everet Gire, a Democratic city councilman, upset Republican Mayor Forrest Harper.

In Dayton, incumbent city commissioner R. William Patterson was reelected to office with the highest number of votes and automatically became mayor under Dayton's commission-city manager form of government. Henry Stout, former mayor, did not run for reelection. Patterson received 23,493 votes. John Pottinger with 20,848 votes and Frank R. Somers

RESIDENTS of Perry Township approved a fire protection levy by a convincing majority. It was for .5 of a mill for five years and the vote was 129 to 41.

Judge Max G. Dice was given a complimentary vote of 4,695 as the voters returned him to the bench of the Municipal Court. Now, for the first time, the court will serve the whole of the county. Until the last session of the Ohio Legislature amended the law to abolish justices of the peace, the Municipal Court here had no jurisdiction in Jeffersonville or Jefferson Township.

Councils were elected in Washington C. H. and the four villages — Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Milledgeville and Octa. With the exception of Octa, where the six candidates were unopposed, the voters had unusually big fields from which to choose.

The four villages also elected mayors and clerks and Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville elected boards of public affairs (principally to run their waterworks). Only Jeffersonville will have a change in the mayor's office; Oscar Fannin was elected to succeed Russell Mitchell, the incumbent. Mayors of the other three villages were reelected.

O'Neill Amendment Fails In Ohio Voting Tuesday

COLUMBUS (AP)—Tuesday's voters rejected an O'Neill administration-backed change in the Ohio Constitution for appointment of non-residents to public office, but apparently approved two other amendments.

One would permit Ohio residents of less than one year to vote for President and vice president in quadrennial elections. The other would make it easier to establish a county charter form of government.

Observers termed defeat of the proposal for appointment of outsiders to non-elective offices a slap at Gov. C. William O'Neill. The governor imported a man to direct Ohio's $2 billion highway construction program and sought others for his Cabinet.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown reported these unofficial totals for all of Ohio's 12,459 polling places:

Amendment No. 1, to eliminate the one-year residence requirement for public office appointees: Yes 701,808, No 1,040,658.

Amendment No. 2, to remove one-year residence requirement for eligibility to vote for president: Yes 1,069,261, No 659,432.

Amendment No. 3, modifying procedure for adoption of county-charter government: Yes 832,454, No 799,693.

Interest in the constitutional amendments and about 1,500 local issues vied for the attention of voters with races by candidates for city, village, township and other offices in generally light balloting.

Returns showed 18 counties favoring amendment No. 3, most of them by narrow margins. Fulton County gave it a three-vote edge.

Five counties voted no on all three proposals. They are Monroe, Gallia, Morgan, Noble and Vinton, all predominantly rural. Tuscarawas County in eastern Ohio was the only county listed as voting yes on amendment No. 1 to eliminate the one-year appointment re-

Little Rock Segregation Slate Loses

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A slate of candidates who remained publicly neutral on the racial issue Tuesday captured six out of seven Little Rock city director positions over segregationist opponents on the basis of complete but unofficial returns.

The slate had been backed by the Good Government Committee, a group which had initiated the fight toward a change from the mayor-council to the city manager form of government months before the racial integration crisis at Little Rock Central High School.

Only one of seven candidates backed by the Capital Citizens Council was successful and three of the races were not decided until the final box was tabulated early today.

The Good Government Committee had declared that the racial issue had nothing to do with the campaign, but the Citizens Council group sharply criticized the GGC candidates and focused attention on integration.

Russians Ready Military Show

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's military parade Thursday will be heavy on rockets, but there will still be enough heavy guns and clanking-treads to delight old soldiers.

The march through Red Square will unveil not only a number of giant guided missiles but a whole family of new tanks and rocket launchers.

Thus far aerial rehearsals have shown no new equipment. But if current foggy weather changes sufficiently, Russian fliers certainly will demonstrate a number of new models, including some speed turbo-prop transports.

The sun broke through at noon today after three days of almost constant fog, raising hopes that there might be a parade flypast of new planes.

Khrushchev Calls for New East-West High-Level Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev called again today for a "high level" East-West meeting to seek an end to world tensions.

Speaking at a joint jubilee session of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's parliament, Khrushchev declared:

"We should like to have a high level meeting of representatives of capitalist and socialist countries so as to reach agreement on excluding war as a means of solving political questions."

At the same time the party chief repeated the recent Soviet charges that the "Americans are plotting against Syria, and inciting Israel and Turkey to provocation."

Earlier, in high spirits over Russia's lead in the space satellite race, he called on the United States and other nations to send up baby moons to join Russia's in a "commonwealth of Sputniks."

KHRUSHCHEV predicted the Soviet Union could exceed America's volume of production in the next 15 years. He said the requirements of the Soviet people could be satisfied in five to seven years without curtailing military production and heavy industry, and that the housing shortage would be licked in 10 to 12 years.

Khrushchev also condemned the NATO summit meeting in Paris in December which President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and other Western heads of state will attend. The Soviet chief said that meeting "promises nothing good in the cause of peace."

Khrushchev leveled a specific blast at U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, declaring: "By keeping the world on the brink of war, as Dulles put it, the imperialists are trying to make favorable conditions for the imperialist monopolies."

The Soviet leader spoke for three hours and seven minutes to 17,000 persons jamming Moscow's giant Sports Palace. His audience, which gave him a standing ovation as he entered with Red China's Mao Tze-tung, included leaders from all over the Communist world on hand for the 40th anniversary Thursday of the Bolshevik Revolution.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles held an extraordinary meeting today with a half dozen men who were officials and foreign policy experts in the Truman administration. The purpose was to discuss plans and seek ideas for U. S. proposals to the North Atlantic summit meeting in Paris in December.

One of the group was Paul H. Nitze, who served as chief of the policy planning staff under Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Nitze is now associated with the Foreign Service Education Foundation.

TOLEDO (AP) — Toledo's 21-year-old city manager system won a strong victory at the polls Tuesday.

Democrats Score Significant Gains In Various Ohio Municipal Elections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrats scored significant gains in municipal elections throughout Ohio Tuesday, including a few spectacular upsets in what were once Republican strongholds.

Democrats gained control of the Columbus City Council for the first time in 13 years by defeating all three incumbent GOP councilmen. The new council will line up four Democrats and three Republicans.

The capital city already has a Democratic mayor, M. E. Sensenbrenner, who was not up for election this year, but who had stumped vigorously for the Democratic candidates. Sensenbrenner, a native of Circleville, already has his hat in the ring for the Democratic nomination for governor in next year's election.

The result of the Columbus city election was seen by some as an indication of Sensenbrenner's prowess as a vote-getter.

In Reading, a Cincinnati suburb, a 16-year Republican reign was ended when the Democrats captured 11 city offices.

Early returns from Cincinnati showed Charles P. Taft, a Charter candidate, heading the list of aspirants for City Council. Two other Charter candidates, John J. Gilligan and Vincent H. Beckman, held second and third place.

But GOP candidates held five places in the top nine on the basis of early returns. The Charter Party is a combination of liberal Republicans and Democrats.

Statewide, the Democrats increased their number of mayoralities at the expense of the Republicans. They took about twice the number of seats away from the GOP as the Republicans won from the Democrats.

Democratic victories included wins in long-time GOP strongholds such as Chillicothe and Bowling Green. In Bowling Green, Democrat Clarence W. Dick defeated incumbent Republican Mayor Lorin H. Janzer. And in Chillicothe Everet Gire, a Democratic city councilman, upset Republican Mayor Forrest Harper.

In Dayton, incumbent city commissioner R. William Patterson was reelected to office with the highest number of votes and automatically became mayor under Dayton's commission-city manager form of government. Henry Stout, former mayor, did not run for reelection. Patterson received 23,493 votes. John Pottinger with 20,848 votes and Frank R. Somers elected pro-administration candidates to the school boards in both the county and Miami Trace districts.

Two of the three proposed amendments to the state constitution were turned down in a county-wide vote. One would permit appointment to state office a person without qualifications of an elector (2,611 against 1,232 for) and the other would permit electors to approve a county charter changing the form of county government (2,028 against 1,400 for). They approved the other amendment proposal, which would liberalize requirements for voting for president (2,130 for, 1,618 against).

Two trustees were elected for each of the 10 townships. Most of the incumbents were reelected and in four townships the candidates were unopposed.

ONLY FIVE decisions had to be made by all residents of the county: hospital bond issue; hospital levy; Municipal Court judge; and the three constitutional amendments.

Of these five, chief interest centered on the two proposals for enlarging Memorial Hospital and providing a operating levy.

The proposal for a $780,000 bond issue for a 60-bed addition to the hospital and increased facilities failed by 375 votes to get a majority, with 2,348 for it and 2,723 against it.

A 55 per cent affirmative vote was required for passage, and it received only 46.3 per cent.

The operating levy missed approval by only 103 votes. It received 2,414 votes in favor of it and 2,517 against. Only a majority was required for passage and it received a 48.9 per cent favorable vote.

Nineteen of the 45 precincts in the county gave a majority vote to the bond issue and 20 a majority to the levy proposal, although both went down to defeat.

In the city, the vote favored the levy, 1,069 to 1,063 but the proposal lost in the rural precincts, 1,448 to 1,351.

* *

THE HOSPITAL bond issue proposal was defeated in both city and county. City voters turned it down, 1,161 to 1,023 and county voters, 1,562 to 1,325.

COMMENTING on the outcome of the vote on the hospital bond issue, George Pensyl, president of the board of trustees said: "It is a source of regret to our board and all others who are officially identified with the hospital, that the bond issue and operating levy failed to pass.

"However, we want to assure the public that those of us charged with the responsibility will continue to use every effort within our power to continue the service of the institution along the same high standards as in the past.

"We trust that sometime in the early future the general public will more fully understand the problems which our county hospital faces and will join in a movement to bring about the improvements needed. At the same time all our hospital officials join in expressing our sincere appreciation to all those who supported the effort for the new construction and alteration program and operating levy."

BY 9:45 P. M. all 45 precincts in the county had made at least partial reports.

The returns were complete by 1:30 a. m. Wednesday when Union West reported.

Complete reports started coming into the Board of Elections office earlier than usual from the efficiently - functioning election machinery. Of the 45 precincts, 44 were reported complete more than an hour before the final complete report came in from Union West.

Heaviest vote in any one precinct was the 720 in precinct B of the first ward in Washington C. H.; The lightest was the 22 total at Octa.

A crowd started gathering on the ground floor of the Courthouse, just outside the door of the Board of Elections, by 7 p. m. and within two hours the corridor was fairly well packed with milling men and women. It started to thin out by 10 p. m., but there were many still there at midnight.

THE TALLY SHEETS were brought to the Board of Elections by the presiding judges of each precinct. One copy was taken to tabulators in the Probate courtroom, one was kept in the Board of Elections office and Sheriff Orland Hays read off the figures from another to the group in the corridor. Several in the corridor kept their own tally at a table which had been provided.

The Record-Herald office also was packed with interested people all evening to get the returns telephoned by staff members from the Courthouse as soon as they came in.

The vote was tabulated in the Record - Herald office on the major issues and candidates for office led by Albert R. Bryant, and Edwin Ducey.

Cumulative totals were kept as each precinct reported in order to keep those in the office and those who telephoned advised on the progress of the election.

The official Election Board official count, to be conducted later this week, is not expected to materially change reported results.

Many Experts Doubt Reds To Fire at Moon

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia appears to have the ability to send a missile crashing into the moon any time she wants.

But many scientists doubt the Russians have the accuracy to hit Thursday's lunar eclipse over the Pacific—even for the propaganda glory of the Bolshevik Revolution's 40th anniversary.

The moon is buried totally in the earth's shadow for just half an hour—and that comes just west of the Mariana Islands, south of Japan, east of the Philippines.

There has been speculation that the Soviets would seize on the eclipse to make a big show on their anniversary celebration.

It would appear likely the Russians would keep at least one space trick up their sleeves for Thursday's anniversary, but just what is peculation.

If the Russians did plan a missile destined to strike the moon Thursday, then probably it is already space-borne.

Stork's Visit Fails To Halt Her Voting

SOUTH SALT LAKE (AP) — Mrs. Justin V. Richardson couldn't go to the polls in this Salt Lake City suburb Tuesday because she had just given birth to her tenth child.

Shortly after the city offices opened, she telephoned and asked for an absentee ballot.

Mrs. Richardson's baby was a boy, evening up the family at five girls and five boys.

Ohio Amendments

striction. The county voted no on the other two proposals.

The last Legislature placed the three constitutional amendment proposals before voters for final decision. Amendment No. 1 followed this situation:

Upon taking office last January, O'Neill detoured the one-year residence requirement by appointing Charles M. Noble, former New Jersey Turnpike engineer, as his secretary in charge of highways at $30,000.

Noble will be eligible next mid-January for appointment as state highway director in the governor's Cabinet. He now is carried on O'Neill's personal staff as a secretary at the $30,000 figure.

Informed that the amendment proposal was losing, O'Neill said, "I don't think it will make any difference" to Noble.

* * *

THE RESTRICTION, in effect since 1913, prevented O'Neill from obtaining a director of mental hygiene and correction from outside the state. It also delayed selection of the first superintendent of schools for several months.

Approval of Amendment No. 2 makes it necessary for the Legislature to determine the residence requirements of an elector voting for President and vice president. The lawmakers are expected to shorten the present one-year requirement considerably for otherwise qualified voters.

Amendment No. 3 generated the most controversy. It allows creation of a county-charter form of government by majority vote of all county electors balloting on that proposal. The Constitution now requires a complicated four-step voting process that has balked all attempts to create county-charter governments.

The proposal permits a three-step voting method for counties of more than 500,000 population (Cuyahoga, Franklin and Hamilton) on any proposal to make big-city government countywide.

endorsement, said this massive resistance to the Supreme Court's school opinion was likely instead to end in massive integration.

He proposed what he called a more realistic plan for local assignment of pupils, saying it would comply with court orders while keeping schools separate. That wasn't enough for Virginia voters.

But in Little Rock itself candidates described by segregationists as potential race mixers won six of seven posts as city directors. The seventh seat was won by a man who did not file as an avowed segregationist, but was backed by the Citizens Council.

In New York City, Mayor Wagner won a smashing victory without benefit of the Liberal party vote. This encouraged Democrats to believe they have built up the party foundation to reelect Gov. Averell Harriman next year. The Negro vote in Harlem, which Republicans had hoped would go their way, went about 4-1 for Wagner.

In Pennsylvania, Democrats rolled up big majorities in reelecting Democratic Mayors David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh and John T. Hanlon of Scranton to unprecedented fourth terms. Lancaster elected a Democratic mayor for the first time in 23 years. Republicans appeared to have lost a net of five mayors in 23 contests.

A 55 per cent affirmative vote was required for passage, and it received only 46.3 per cent.

The operating levy missed approval by only 103 votes. It received 2,414 votes in favor of it and 2,517 against. Only a majority was required for passage and it received a 48.9 per cent favorable vote.

Nineteen of the 45 precincts in the county gave a majority vote to the bond issue and 20 a majority to the levy proposal, although both went down to defeat.

In the city, the vote favored the levy, 1,069 to 1,063 but the proposal lost in the rural precincts, 1,448 to 1,351.

THE HOSPITAL bond issue proposal was defeated in both city and county. City voters turned it down, 1,161 to 1,023 and county voters, 1,562 to 1,325.

COMMENTING on the outcome of the vote on the hospital bond issue, George Pensyl, president of the board of trustees said: "It is a source of regret to our board and all others who are officially identified with the hospital, that the bond issue and operating levy failed to pass.

"However, we want to assure the public that those of us charged with the responsibility will continue to use every effort within our power to continue the service of the institution along the same high standards as in the past.

"We trust that sometime in the early future the general public will more fully understand the problems which our county hospital faces and will join in a movement to bring about the improvements needed. At the same time all our hospital officials join in expressing our sincere appreciation to all those who supported the effort for the new construction and alteration program and operating levy."

BY 9:45 P. M. all 45 precincts in the county had made at least partial reports.

The returns were complete by 1:30 a. m. Wednesday when Union West reported.

Complete reports started coming into the Board of Elections office earlier than usual from the efficiently - functioning election machinery. Of the 45 precincts, 44 were reported complete more than an hour before the final complete report came in from Union West.

Heaviest vote in any one precinct was the 220 in precinct B of the first ward in Washington C. H.; The lightest was the 22 total at Octa.

A crowd started gathering on the ground floor of the Courthouse, just outside the door of the Board of Elections, by 7 p. m. and within two hours the corridor was fairly well packed with milling men and women. It started to thin out by 10 p. m., but there were many still there at midnight.

THE TALLY SHEETS were brought to the Board of Elections by the presiding judges of each precinct. One copy was taken to tabulators in the Probate courtroom, one was kept in the Board of Elections office and Sheriff Orland Hays read off the figures from another to the group in the corridor. Several in the corridor kept their own tally at a table which had been provided.

The Record-Herald office also was packed with interested people all evening to get the returns telephoned by staff members from the Courthouse as soon as they came in.

The vote was tabulated in the Record - Herald office on the major issues and candidates for office led by Albert R. Bryant, and Edwin Ducey.

Cumulative totals were kept as each precinct reported in order to keep those in the office and those who telephoned advised on the progress of the election.

The official Election Board official count, to be conducted later this week, is not expected to materially change reported results.

Many Experts Doubt Reds To Fire at Moon

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia appears to have the ability to send a missile crashing into the moon any time she wants.

But many scientists doubt the Russians have the accuracy to hit Thursday's lunar eclipse over the Pacific—even for the propaganda glory of the Bolshevik Revolution's 40th anniversary.

The moon is buried totally in the earth's shadow for just half an hour—and that comes just west of the Mariana Islands, south of Japan, east of the Philippines.

There has been speculation that the Soviets would seize on the eclipse to make a big show on their anniversary celebration.

It would appear likely the Russians would keep at least one space trick up their sleeves for Thursday's anniversary, but just what is peculation.

If the Russians did plan a missile destined to strike the moon Thursday, then probably it is already space-borne.

Stork's Visit Fails To Halt Her Voting

SOUTH SALT LAKE (AP) — Mrs. Justin V. Richardson couldn't go to the polls in this Salt Lake City suburb Tuesday because she had just given birth to her tenth child.

Shortly after the city offices opened, she telephoned and asked for an absentee ballot.

Marshal Henry Dipo Jr. and Mrs. Martha Toombs, city recorder and clerk, delivered a ballot to Mrs. Richardson at Latter - Day Saints Hospital and waited in a corridor while she marked it.

Mrs. Richardson's baby was a boy, evening up the family at five girls and five boys.

He will be installed as a member of the youth commission at a Southern Diocesan meeting in Dayton during Thanksgiving week. Approximately 5,000 are expected to attend the latter meeting.

Ohio Amendments

striction. The county voted no on the other two proposals.

The last Legislature placed the three constitutional amendment proposals before voters for final decision. Amendment No. 1 followed this situation:

Upon taking office last January, O'Neill detoured the one-year residence requirement by appointing Charles M. Noble, former New Jersey Turnpike engineer, as his secretary in charge of highways at $30,000.

Noble will be eligible next mid-January for appointment as state highway director in the governor's Cabinet. He now is carried on O'Neill's personal staff as a secretary at the $30,000 figure.

Informed that the amendment proposal was losing, O'Neill said, "I don't think it will make any difference" to Noble.

* * *

THE RESTRICTION, in effect since 1913, prevented O'Neill from obtaining a director of mental hygiene and correction from outside the state. It also delayed selection of the first superintendent of schools for several months.

Approval of Amendment No. 2 makes it necessary for the Legislature to determine the residence requirements of an elector voting for President and vice president. The lawmakers are expected to shorten the present one-year requirement considerably for otherwise qualified voters.

Amendment No. 3 generated the most controversy. It allows creation of a county-charter form of government by majority vote of all county electors balloting on that proposal. The Constitution now requires a complicated four-step voting process that has balked all attempts to create county-charter governments.

The proposal permits a three-step voting method for counties of more than 500,000 population (Cuyahoga, Franklin and Hamilton) on any proposal to make big-city government countywide.

Traffic Offenders Appear in Court

Two traffic offenders pleaded guilty before Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal Court Wednesday, and three traffic bond forfeitures were recorded.

Fined $20 and costs for speeding was Charles Upp, 38, of Jeffersonville. Lester Weese, 25, of Harrisburg, was fined $20 and costs for passing on a yellow line.

Non - appearance traffic bond forfeitures were by Steven Rau, 23, of San Francisco, Calif., $15, running a red light; Erwin James Schmick, 54, Ft. Thomas, Ky., $20 speeding; and Fred Street, 23, Centerburg, $30, speeding.

endorsement, said this massive resistance to the Supreme Court's school opinion was likely instead to end in massive integration.

He proposed what he called a more realistic plan for local assignment of pupils, saying it would comply with court orders while keeping schools separate. That wasn't enough for Virginia voters.

But in Little Rock itself candidates described by segregationists as potential race mixers won six of seven posts as city directors. The seventh seat was won by a man who did not file as an avowed segregationist, but was backed by the Citizens Council.

In New York City, Mayor Wagner won a smashing victory without benefit of the Liberal party vote. This encouraged Democrats to believe they have built up the party foundation to reelect Gov. Averell Harriman next year. The Negro vote in Harlem, which Republicans had hoped would go their way, went about 4-1 for Wagner.

In Pennsylvania, Democrats rolled up big majorities in reelecting Democratic Mayors David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh and John T. Hanlon of Scranton to unprecedented fourth terms. Lancaster elected a Democratic mayor for the first time in 23 years. Republicans appeared to have lost a net of five mayors in 23 contests.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Jess A. Schlichter, who lives in the former Wilby Hyde home on Myers Rd. in Paint Township, is one of Fayette County's largest farmers. He is farming 1,047 acres of land owned by the V. R. McCoy estate which is being administered by three trustees.

Jess has been successfully operating the big tract of farm land for eight years, and when I stopped to see him recently, he was in the midst of picking some exceptionally good corn.

The tract he is farming includes the former Wilby Hyde farm, the Joseph Rodger (later Lee Rodger) farm, and the Jacob Weyer farm, which were purchased by V. R. McCoy several years prior to his death.

The story is related that V. R. McCoy bought the land by placing $1 more per acre bid on the 467 acres than had been bid prior to that.

Nearly 400 acres of corn will average 75 bushels, it is expected, the average having been reduced by spots drowned out in the early part of the season.

A few days ago he marketed 125 head of hogs, is feeding some 300 additional and has several hundred fall pigs.

He is also feeding a large number of cattle, and has 80 brood cows on the large acreage he is farming.

Jess keeps abreast of the times with farm practices and study to bring about top production, proper care of the soil, and right methods generally to insure success of his extensive farming.

In addition he finds time to devote to community affairs.

COVERED FOR PROTECTION

There was a good reason why the old covered bridges, scores of which formerly spanned Fayette County streams, were roofed and siding nailed on.

It was to protect the timbers from decay, and how thoroughly this protection worked is indicated by the fact that a double-covered wooden bridge on Route 22, over North Fork of Paint Creek, was torn away some 8 or 10 years ago after having stood 102 years.

In order to span the streams, some of them 150 feet in width, with wooden structures it was necessary to use truss bridges, usually of lattice type, and the roof and sides were necessary to protect the heavy timber of framework and give it several times the life it would have had if exposed to the weather.

When the tornado struck Washington C. H. Sept. 8, 1885, it wrecked the covered bridge over Paint Creek on W. Court St.

Now the only covered bridge left in the county is over Deer Creek on the Yankeetown Rd., in the extreme northeastern corner of Fayette County.

In 1876 a two-span 402-foot covered wooden bridge was built across the Muskingum River at Conesville in Coshocton County, and in 1846 a 702-foot covered bridge was built across the Penobscot River in Maine, between Bangor and Brewer, at a cost of $60-000. The latter was made up of several spans.

FIRST MUSIC IN SCHOOLS

Robert A. Robinson, who was born March 2?, 1829, on the site of the corner room of Murphy's Store, was the first music teacher in the Washington C. H. Schools.

He was engaged in the mercantile business here for years, and later affiliated with the First National Bank until it was reorganized and became the People's and Drovers Bank. He then held the post of cashier in that institution for many years, his services extending from 1861 until 1895. I knew him quite well after the turn of the century.

For 50 years he was leader of the choir in Grace Methodist Church. He introduced singing in the city schools.

Mr. Robinson also conducted his own singing school for many years, and because of his exceptional talent, he never lacked for pupils. Scores of good singers during his day attributed their ability to his exceptional work as a singing school master.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Work of remodeling the Washington Chair Co. building for the Morton Show Case Co. was started, and the new company was to begin operating Jan. 1, 1928.

The Baker Wood Preserving Co. was extending yards and creosoting facilities.

Floods caused more than 150 deaths and millions of property damage in New England States.

Jesse B. Bainter, former Rock Mills grocer, died.

Plans were made for dedicating war memorial on Court House lawn, during Armistice Day services Nov. 11, with Judge C. A. Reid delivering dedicatory address.

Wild geese were migrating southward and two days later the mercury had dropped to 19 degrees above zero.

The John Cannon test plot of corn produced 116.5 bushels to the acre and Mrs. Floyd Eichelberger's test plot produced 104.5 bushels per acre.

A. C. Patton was elected mayor, defeating V. J. Dahl 1,592 to 978. The three-mill levy for operating expenses of city was defeated.

Will The Zhukov Move Mean Other Changes?

It is probable that Russia's reported new internal changes and troubles, augmented by the removal of Marshal Zhukov as defense minister, is now creating more world - wide interest than any other one feature of current happenings.

What has appeared as the pushing down of Zhukov has come as a surprise and has provided a topic for much speculation, not only in the Western World but in places near Russia where the Soviet government's present leader, Khrushchev, figures he is gaining greater control.

For some time the sudden downgrading of some of the Kremlin's top officials has not been unusual. On this occasion it is reported that diplomats are not at all certain what it means; it appears that Zhukov is to be pushed far down the ladder.

The announcement of his removal from the key defense post was curt to the point of omitting any reference to future work. Following that he now becomes further degraded by the Communist party leaders. Dispatched recently on a three-week tour of Albania and Yugoslavia with full publicity and ceremony, Zhukov returned home to face disgrace.

If Zhukov is dropped to some low position, western thinking on the internal Kremlin power struggle clearly needs revising.

When Red party boss Nikita Khrushchev bounced Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich last spring, Zhukov was credited with a prime assist. Many hinted he was the power behind Khrushchev, and might one day take over.

To presume he has been demoted is to suggest his power was exaggerated by the West. Possibly some other army leader such as Marshal Konev is the true master of the military. Possibly no one in the military is as strong as was thought, and Khrushchev has the strength to work his will in every zone of Soviet power.

Mystery shrouds much of the meaning of this situation. But there is no mystery about the final purpose of these successive shocks and shake - ups with Russia. It is the making of Stalin's successor, the restoration of his one - man rule.

Only time will show whether Khruschev will become a second Stalin.

Queen Changes Fishing Habit

By Hal Boyle

That Queen Elizabeth II may be boss in Buckingham Palace, but when she goes fishing she takes her guidance from her husband, as do most wives. It was Prince Philip who converted her from trout to salmon fishing, now a favorite hobby with both.

That it was hopeful Charles Lamb who said, "not many sounds in life exceed in interest a knock at the door."

That you can't pull hair out by the roots. The tiny white bulb at the bottom of a hair, commonly thought to be the root, is no more than the base of the strand. And the root keeps right on growing.

That the latest joke in East Europe concerns a Moscow factory worker who was sentenced to 10 years for shouting "Khrushchev is a drunken idiot!" The judge ruled: "You must serve three years for offending the first secretary and seven years for betraying a state secret."

That you can make a handy shoe rack from an old discarded curtain rod. Just tack it to the inside of a closet door and hang shoes on it by their heels. And aren't we getting to be mother's little helper!

That the odds are even if your ancestors came over on the first Mayflower you can't name the captain of the ship: Christopher Jones.

That the figureheads on old sailing vessels were there for a practical reason — to scare away sea serpents.

That no one yet has improved on ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker's definition of a reformer: "A guy who rides through a sewer in a glassbottom boat."

That except for Death Valley, the only area in the United States below sea level is New Orleans.

That in colonial America—mid-18th Century, a population of three million consumed 12 million gallons of rum a year. They had rugged people as well as rugged winters in those days.

That two 15 - year - old boys, nabbed for shoplifting phonograph records in Allentown, Pa., apparently didn't read the labels. The songs they picked: "You Shouldn't Do That" and "Don't Be A Fool."

That if you think television has cut down the reading of books by the younger generation, you're wrong. It's picked up.

We Can't Ignore Bevan

By George Sokolsky

Aneurin Bevan, who will be minister for foreign affairs in the British government should Labour take over in that country, has been meeting various and sundry people and making a speech here and there in this country. He is preparing the American mind for the day when we shall have to deal with him.

Bevan is extraordinarily opinionated about the United States and the relationship of the United States to his country and all others. His views are not as sound as Winston Churchill's, to take one example of a Britisher with whom we had much to do.

British socialists become somewhat mystical and theological about the world states with a capital S. Their opposition makes them a ready prey for the pragmatic doctrine that what exists is, if not right, at any rate, an indisputable fact and that therefore Soviet Russia and Red China and similar unpalatable facts cannot be disputed because they exist. It is like Descartes' dictum. "I think, therefore I am," which is indisputable except that it is not the only reason.

The existence of Soviet Russia and Red China and Tito, Yugoslavia and Nasser' Egypt are all facts but do we have to like the facts? We must recognize the geographical facts of where countries are, but we do not have to play footsies with countries because they exist. Snakes exist. Earthquakes exist. Tidal waves exist. We do not have to like them because they exist.

We do not have to like Soviet Russia or Red China because they exist and should Bevan or any other British foreign minister face us with an ultimatum to effect that if we do not change our policy toward those countries, the Anglo-American alliance will be destroyed, he will find that the alliance will not stand the strain for one moment.

Bevan is a fascinating person, sharp, well-spoken, at times glib, withal very attractive, but he is immature in international relations. He will discover, in time, it is to be hoped, that Soviet Russia is not a European country at all. It is Asiatic in thought and action and in its suspicions, particularly of Great Britain and the United States.

The Bevan thesis, spoken at the Economic Club in New York, that if "We can break down the barriers of misunderstanding with Soviet Russia we can roll back the tides of communism," has no historic meaning although the combination of words sounds good to those who fear war more than losing their honor or their virtue. At any rate, if this means that Soviet Russia will give up its faith if we shake hands across the seas, Bevan does not understand Soviet Russia and the deep religiosity which has been incorpated into Leninism, that can be best explained as Marxism folded into the ancient Russian concept of mother earth—an emotional response which has survived paganism, the boyars, the czars and now a part of Soviet ideology.

Bevan, the Welsh Fabian, apparently is too provincial to grasp the nature of a religious movement so overpowering that it not only calls for great sacrifices but actually finds a devotion unparalleled anywhere on earth in this century.

Of course, Bevan will learn He will move away from doctrinaire positions to reality which is very different from pragmatism, for the mysteries of life are also reality and faith is reality and anything that men are willing to die for, like God and country, is reality.

And Bevan will discover when he becomes foreign minister that public opinion in the United States is a reality and that whereas he, as a socialist, expects men to follow those who proclaim themselves experts, no politician in the United States can have any such expectation because each citizen somehow makes up his own mind and thumbs his nose at the experts, asking who elected them to such a high estate.

When I look at Bevan, I think of Lloyd George, another Welshman but in his day not a socialist but a liberal. Like Bevan, Lloyd George rose from simple beginnings, developed a career out of sheer ability, and was delayed because of mistrust. Bevan is now assured of a proper position.

He will surely be foreign minister and may some day be prime minister. He cannot be ignored no matter how distasteful some of his views are.

Price of Success Sometimes Is Ulcers

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Development of ulcers does not automatically assure you of business success.

Success doesn't necessarily accompany ulcers. Frequently, however, ulcers do accompany success.

Many ambitious, hard-driving executives have ulcers. Emotions, you see, appear to be firmly linked with ulcer attacks.

Business competition or reverses, family troubles, even mild illnesses which interfere with everyday responsibilities, often are associated with active ulcers.

Ulcer patients, probably more than those with any other single ailment, require the sympathetic interest of their doctors. A long rest, a vacation, even a visit to a doctor's office help an ulcer victim greatly, in most instances.

Medical aid, of course, is essential. If you have an ulcer, you should be under a physician's care. Psychotherapeutic help also might be in order.

A few years ago, a controlled experiment was begun. Two groups of ulcer patients each were matched for age, sex, duration of symptoms, complications and other essentials. One group received conventional diets and drugs, the other got only advice and help with their emotional problems.

Three years later two-thirds of those treated with psychotherapy alone showed X-ray evidence of complete healing. But only one-third of those treated with diets and antacids showed corresponding improvement.

We have long recognized the value of milk in treating ulcers. Now, there is some speculation as to whether the value of milk in relieving ulcers may be due as much to memories of babyhood satisfaction as to its buffering of stomach acid.

Probably the best treatment for ulcers is to combine medical relief of symptoms with psychotherapy for easing emotional tensions. Tranquilizers can be of help in this regard. Of course, readjustment of responsibilities, a vacation, and plenty of sympathy from the doctor are good medicine, too.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

F. B.: Can you tell me what causes a person to be a midget? Is it true that premature babies are midgets?

Answer: The exact cause of all types of midgets is not known. One type is known to suffer rom chondodystrophy, a condition affecting the cartilages in the body. Another type evidently is hereditary. Such persons were not necessarily premature babies.

Latest nose count in New York City shows that metropolis has suffered a shrinkage of its population. This, says Zakok Dumkopf, is only natural seeing that all those Giant and Dodger ball players are gone to do business elsewhere.

In London, England, 200 university students staged a street brawl using fire extinguishers as weapons. That should have cooled off hot tempers.

An Azores island was born of a volcanic eruption, broke in two and then vanished—all within 30 days. A brief life but an exciting one!

See where Russia's big boss, Nikita Khrushchev, has bought himself some Italian custom-made clothing. Knowing that Khrushy's favorite nip is vodka, we doubt whether the wardrobe includes a beer suit.

A Latin American nation has suspended its constitutional guarantees. What it needs is some guaranteed constitutional guarantees.

This year there have been far fewer instances of college students engaging in the silly practice of hanging the football coach in effigy. Then again, it may still be too early in the season.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's an old story, at least 10 years old. The Russians call the tune and this country dances. They act and we react. It's happening again.

The Russians sent two Sputniks into the sky, more evidence of their amazing progress. A tremendous American reaction, by now familiar, sets in: a great national desire to do something to offset the Russians.

It started in 1947 when Greece and Turkey, pressured by Russia, asked this country for aid. This country gave them the help in a new American policy called the Truman Doctrine.

It was the end of two postwar years of trying to work things peacefully with Russia and the beginning of a program of trying to contain communism within its borders.

That same year President Truman proposed the Marshall plan for Western Europe. This was, to a degree, a reaction to aggressive communism. If Europe wasn't helped to its feet, the Communists would have fertile field.

But 1948 was the big year, although for years afterward one American move after another was the result of something the Communists did.

Early that year Russia grabbed control of all Eastern Europe when Communists seized power in Czechoslovakia, the only non-Communist country behind the Iron Curtain. This country was profoundly shocked.

The Russians kept up the pressure, tried to push the West out of Berlin with a blockade. The answer to that was the Berlin Airlift which broke the blockade. Russia's ugly designs were clear enough now.

This country set up a draft law. The Senate authorized American alliances, the first in peacetime. In 1949 the United States joined with Canada and the West European countries in the North Atlantic Treaty Orgahization.

That year this country suffered another gigantic shock. The Russians set off their first atomic explosion on Sept. 23. This country hadn't up to then decided to make the even greater hydrogen bomb.

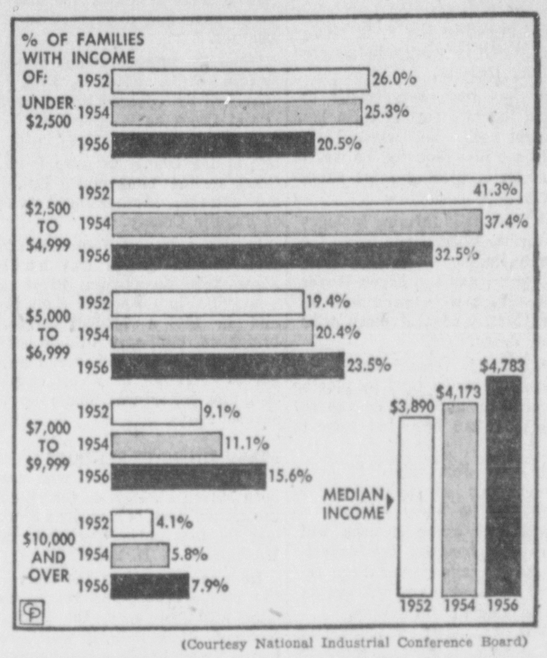

But if we didn't do it, the Russians would. That could be expected. On Jan. 31, 1950 Truman ordered the hydrogen bomb developed. On Nov. 1, 1952 this country had its first hydrogen explosion. We were still ahead of Russia.

But not for long. On Aug. 21, 1953 they had their hydrogen explosion. This was truly a shock.

Meanwhile this country had been lagging with its other armaments. But not for long. The Reds attacked in Korea and we reacted be defending Korea. Then this country rushed into more military alliances — with Japan, Australia, New Zealand, Southeast Asia.

Even President Eisenhower's Mid-East program of this year—a policy of helping any country in the area attacked by communism —was a result of Russian pressure in the Middle East.

Will The Zhukov Move Mean Other Changes?

It is probable that Russia's reported new internal changes and troubles, augmented by the removal of Marshal Zhukov as defense minister, is now creating more world - wide interest than any other one feature of current happenings.

What has appeared as the pushing down of Zhukov has come as a surprise and has provided a topic for much speculation, not only in the Western World but in places near Russia where the Soviet government's present leader, Khrushchev, figures he is gaining greater control.

For some time the sudden downgrading of some of the Kremlin's top officials has not been unusual. On this occasion it is reported that diplomats are not at all certain what it means; it appears that Zhukov is to be pushed far down the ladder.

The announcement of his removal from the key defense post was curt to the point of omitting any reference to future work. Following that he now becomes further degraded by the Communist party leaders. Dispatched recently on a three-week tour of Albania and Yugoslavia with full publicity and ceremony, Zhukov returned home to face disgrace.

If Zhukov is dropped to some low position, western thinking on the internal Kremlin power struggle clearly needs revising.

When Red party boss Nikita Khrushchev bounced Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich last spring, Zhukov was credited with a prime assist. Many hinted he was the power behind Khrushchev, and might one day take over.

To presume he has been demoted is to suggest his power was exaggerated by the West. Possibly some other army leader such as Marshal Konev is the true master of the military. Possibly no one in the military is as strong as was thought, and Khrushchev has the strength to work his will in every zone of Soviet power.

Mystery shrouds much of the meaning of this situation. But there is no mystery about the final purpose of these successive shocks and shake - ups with Russia. It is the making of Stalin's successor, the restoration of his one - man rule.

Only time will show whether Khruschev will become a second Stalin.

Queen Changes Fishing Habit

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That Queen Elizabeth II may be boss in Buckingham Palace, but when she goes fishing she takes her guidance from her husband, as do most wives. It was Prince Philip who converted her from trout to salmon fishing, now a favorite hobby with both.

That women buy one of every three beers sold at the Yankee Stadium.

That it was hopeful Charles Lamb who said, "not many sounds in life exceed in interest a knock at the door."

That you can't pull hair out by the roots. The tiny white bulb at the bottom of a hair, commonly thought to be the root, is no more than the base of the strand. And the root keeps right on growing.

That the latest joke in East Europe concerns a Moscow factory worker who was sentenced to 10 years for shouting "Khrushchev is a drunken idiot!" The judge ruled: "You must serve three years for offending the first secretary and seven years for betraying a state secret."

That you can make a handy shoe rack from an old discarded curtain rod. Just tack it to the inside of a closet door and hang shoes on it by their heels. And aren't we getting to be mother's little helper!

That the odds are even if your ancestors came over on the first Mayflower you can't name the captain of the ship: Christopher Jones.

That the figureheads on old sailing vessels were there for a practical reason — to scare away sea serpents.

That no one yet has improved on ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker's definition of a reformer: "A guy who rides through a sewer in a glassbottom boat."

That except for Death Valley, the only area in the United States below sea level is New Orleans.

That in colonial America—mid-18th Century, a population of three million consumed 12 million gallons of rum a year. They had rugged people as well as rugged winters in those days.

That two 15 - year - old boys, nabbed for shoplifting phonograph records in Allentown, Pa., apparently didn't read the labels. The songs they picked: "You Shouldn't Do That" and "Don't Be A Fool."

That if you think television has cut down the reading of books by the younger generation, you're wrong. It's picked up.

That it was Christopher Morley who observed, "If you have to keep reminding yourself of a thing, perhaps it isn't so."

Bevan, the Welsh Fabian, apparently is too provincial to grasp the nature of a religious movement so overpowering that it not only calls for great sacrifices but actually finds a devotion unparalleled anywhere on earth in this century.

U. S. No Longer 'Self-Sufficient'

Macmillan Gives His Views to Parliament

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan says that the American people are "no longer confident that even their great country can do everything itself, without allies, to secure its own survival."

Macmillan told the House of Commons at the opening of a new session of Parliament that the Americans were still less confident they are able alone "to secure survival of the ideals for which they stand." He was discussing his recent meeting with President Eisenhower in Washington.

The Prime Minister said the purpose of the Washington talks was to find agreement on "how the free world could be put into a better posture to defend itself and to save mankind from the horrors of another war without capitulating to world communism."

Macmillan said he still believed peaceful co - existence was possible but he added "I must frankly say that events have not been reassuring" since the Geneva talks with the Soviet Union in 1954.

Macmillan said communism is under central direction and is "bent on the mastery of the world. This need not necessary be achieved by overt force, but by technical achievements, by propaganda and by gradually undermining and sapping away the free world."

Macmillan said there is no reason for smaller or less powerful nations to draw back now that the most powerful countries wish to draw closer to their allies.

"The days of self-sufficient have gone in this great struggle," Macmillan declared, "and I hope we shall lose no time in matching our policies to these facts."

Attorney Is Freed In Bribery Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal bribery indictment against Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, was dismissed Monday on request of the Justice Department.

The lawyer had been accused along with James R. Hoffa, now president-elect of the Teamsters Union, of planting a spy on the staff of the Senate committee investigating rackets in the labor field. Hoffa won acquittal.

U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts granted the dismissal as requested by Asst. U. S. Atty. Edward P. Troxell.

Hoffa and Fischbach were accused of conspiring to bribe John Cye Cheasty, an investigator for the Senate committee, to feed Hoffa committee secrets.

Deaf Mute Hearing Postponed Week

ST. CLAIRSVILLE (AP)—A hearing on a motion for a new trial for two deaf mutes convicted of first degree murder has been postponed until Nov. 12.

The motion filed Oct. 24 in behalf of Joseph Buza, 20, and his brother, Burt, 16, of nearby Barton was originally to be heard before Judge Ross Michener Monday, but another hearing forced the postponement.

A jury found the brothers guilty Oct. 21 of slaying Mrs. Mary Dunham, a gasoline station operator in a dispute over two worthless checks. The jury did not recommend mercy, making a death sentence mandatory.

In the Ryukyu islands, a fine burial place for the dead is considered more important than a house for the living.

Waves Only 15 Years Old, But Vital Part of Navy Now

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of five articles on the women's branches of the armed forces.

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Waves were only 15 years old last July 30, but since 1948 they have been an integral part of the Navy, assured of the same advancement, security, pay, allowances and benefits as the men.

Their current strength is 5,000 enlisted women and 725 officers. They are not only on duty in continental United States but in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Newfoundland, Japan, Norway, England, France, Italy, Germany, and the Philippines.

They have served in nearly every type of shore activity, including air stations, naval hospitals, Navy yards and supply depots. A few have been assigned as hospital corpsmen aboard dependent transports of the Military Sea Transport Service.

In Washington there are Wave lawyers in the judge advocate's office and a Wave comptroller. A Wave heads up the aerological unit at Alameda, Calif. There are Wave instructors in international law and one is on the faculty of the Navy's post graduate school at Monterey, Calif.

At first the Navy expected to enlist or appoint only 10,000 women in the Naval Reserve, but the Waves were so successful that the organization reached a wartime strength of 85,000. The name Waves stood for Women Appointed for Volunteer Emergency Service, a combination of words obviously chosen for its "salty" initial letters.

Capt. Mildred McAfee Horton, former Wellesley College president, was first Wave director. Blue eyed Capt. Winifred Redden Quick, one of the first officers to enter the reserve corps in 1942 and one of the first two to be sent overseas in 1944, is current director. Born in Great Falls, Mont., the 45-year-old director is a business administration graduate of the University of Southern California.

Waves believe they have a job to do. Their job, Capt. Quick explains, is to "help the men of the Navy with the military tasks that must be done throughout the shore establishments to back up the forces afloat."

"To carry forth this mission," she says, "we must maintain a trained, useful nucleus that could provide the necessary leadership and spearhead the mobilization of vast numbers of women in times of serious national emergency."

"In peacetime," she added, "it not only offers a wonderful career, but gives a young woman a chance to serve her country, as well as an opportunity to serve in jobs around the world."

Marilyn Eager To Go to Work

And Actress Declares She Wants Children

By BOB THOMAS

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost recovered from the loss of a baby, Marilyn Monroe says she is eager to get back to work — and also to have a big family.

In her new East Side apartment, Marilyn displayed a svelte figure which emphasized her loss of weight since her miscarriage in August.

"I'm almost well again," Marilyn said in her usual breathless style.

"I've started going back to the actor's studio, to observe and also to take private lessons from Lee Strasberg. I'll be ready to do a picture, though I don't know if it will be 'Blue Angel,' as the studio has announced.

"Arthur (Miller, her husband) and I are also busy with our new farm — we bought 200 acres in Connecticut. We have just a farm house on it now, but we're going to build a house.

"We'll need a house with plenty of room. We have two children (Miller's by a previous marriage) and there'll be plenty more."

Does she miss California?

"I miss the weather, definitely," she replied. "I also miss a few (emphasizing few) of the people there. But I'm very happy with what I'm doing here. I keep very busy."

One of the roles she enjoys playing, she remarked, was that of Mrs. Arthur Miller.

"I enjoy being a wife," she said. "I like to go in the kitchen and thumb through the cook book to find something that looks interesting. I'm pretty good, too. I've baked bread and made noodles, though I guess you shouldn't print that." The hint was that such news might detract from her glamor, but I doubt that's possible.

WHISKERS?—No, but a type of whiskers, the type that "grow" on surface of stainless steel when it is corroded at high temperature by pure mixtures of water vapor and oxygen. They run to about 1,000,000,000 per square inch, and these are magnified 11,200 times. This photo was made with an electron microscope by Westinghouse scientists in Pittsburgh for study of stress-corrosion cracking of the metal. (International)

Soviets Build Up Science in Siberia

The Communist party newspaper Pravda published today an account of a general meeting of the Soviet Academy of Sciences at which it said "many Soviet scientists have expressed a desire to move into eastern areas of our country and participate in its scientific development."

Pravda reported a speech in which I. V. Kurchatov of the Atomic Energy Institute assigned highly qualified physicists and engineers who would form the main cadres for the Institute of Physics in a new Siberian scientific center.

The ancient Romans did not build prisons for punishment but to hold prisoners until trial or execution.

Farm motor trucks in the United States numbered less than 1,000 in 1910, but reached 2½ million by 1953.

Great Lakes Ports May See A-Powered Ships in Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic-powered ships may be docking at Great Lakes ports some years after the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed. The Seaway is scheduled for opening in spring, 1959.

A Maritime Administration official, while not making any predictions, said today the government hopes atomic ships will be under construction commercially in about five years.

The government already has launched a program to build the first atomic - powered merchant ship, at a cost of about 40 million dollars.

Machinery for this vessel is being built by Babcock & Wilcox Co., chiefly at its plant in Lynchburg, Va. The Maritime Administration expects to award the contract for the ship itself some time this month. Completion date is 1960.

This first experimental ship, however, probably will not enter the Great Lakes since its draft—29½ feet—will be too deep for the Seaway's controlling depth of 27 feet.

Atomic Energy Commission officials say this ship will be much more expensive to operate than conventionally fueled ships.

On the other hand, they expect and hope that subsequent ships will be commercially competitive with present day ships.

Rep. Dennison (R-Ohio), said in a statement:

"Atomic powered merchant ships will connect the Great Lakes with the rest of the world shortly after the St. Lawrence Seaway is in operation.

"Atomic-powered ships are expected to mean cleaner and safer harbors throughout the Great Lakes region. They will emit no smoke or fumes and will eliminate the need for coal and fuel oil installations at dockside.

"They will be able to go two years without refueling, greatly reducing lay-over time during the Great Lakes shipping season."

Farm Program Battle Looming

Groups Prepare Stands For Next Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Battle lines were forming this week for an impending fight in the next session of Congress over federal farm programs.

The National Milk Producers Federation started the pre-session maneuvering at its annual convention at Cincinnati this week. Other farm organizations will follow with similar meetings in the weeks ahead.

These meetings will be held at a time when farm income is lagging behind that of other elements of the economy and when farm policies and programs of the Eisenhower administration are under attack. There are renewed demands from critics that Secretary of Agriculture Benson resign.

The Milk Producers Federation, like several of its sister farm organizations, is dissatisfied with government milk programs. It is expected to make a new demand for "self - help" programs that would permit the dairy industry to handle its own problems of production adjustments and surplus disposal.

The National Grange will hold its convention at Colorado Springs Nov. 11-20. The Grange wants to replace administration programs for major crops with what it calls a multiple price system. Under this, domestically - consumed portions of crops would be supported at a relatively high price. Additional supplies would be allowed to seek whatever price they could command in world markets as well as in supplemental uses. In the past the administration has opposed such a program.

All of Ohio Aides Urged Get Flu Shots

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill wants all 40,000 of Ohio's state employes to get Asian flu vaccination shots.

Chalmers Wylie, assistant to the governor, said the chief executive had written a letter to that effect to all department heads.

Wylie said about one-fourth of the state employes already have obtained influenza shots. They include employes in the health and mental hygiene and correction departments and the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Wylie said the governor hopes each department can work at details that will enable employes to get the vaccine free.

Wylie also announced the appointment of Paul Tague Jr. of Columbus as an executive secretary to the governor, effective Nov. 15. Tague is an assistant attorney general assigned to the Utilities Commission.

He will replace John Shoemaker in the $12,000-a-year post. Part of his duties will include working on extradition and commutation matters and he also will have general administrative duties.

Wylie said it is likely Shoemaker will be given another state job.

Appointment of Roger F. Knittel of Lakewood to a three-year term on the Accountancy Board of Ohio also was announced today. Knittel is a certified public accountant and was appointed to fill a Democratic vacancy on the by-partisan board.

Wylie also said the governor's Committee on Education Beyond High School will meet at 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 14. Dr. John C. Baker, president of Ohio University and chairman of the committee, will make a progress report on future needs for facilities and teachers.

Gallipolis Hotel Fire Blamed in Man's Death

GALLIPOLIS (AP)—A fire on the third floor of Gallia Hotel Tuesday morning apparently caused the death of one occupant and sent two others to the hospital.

Homer Wright died at 4 a. m. in Holzer Hospital here. Frank Allen was treated and released, but Earl Shaw remained in the hospital. Cause of the fire and extent of damage were not immediately available. Ages and hometowns of the dead and injured also were unavailable.

Thin legs are a mark of great beauty to Indian women in Panama. They bind their calves and ankles with strings of beats to keep them from developing.

The waters of the Dead Sea in Palestine contain about eight times as much salt as does ocean water.

U. S. Expected To Seek New Missile Layout

String of Bases Near Red Targets Seen American Goal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to propose to allied nations the creation of a network of missiles bases within striking distance of Soviet targets.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference Tuesday that while the United States has already made arrangements with Britain for establishment of an intermediate range missiles unit in the British Isles he thought "it would be desirable to have them elsewhere."

The missiles involved would be those which, like the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force Thor, have an operational range of about 1,500 miles.

The arrangement made with the British at the Bermuda Conference last spring provides for the United States to furnish the missiles to Britain. Supplies of atomic or hydrogen warheads also would be kept close by, but those would remain in control of the United States ready for use if war broke out.

Dulles pictured the United States as being behind Russia in the development of ballistics missiles but said "I feel assured that we can catch up."

Dulles said that barring a breakdown in the Soviet system, he does not think the United States will ever again have the wide margin of superiority in military power which it had over the Soviet Union 10 years ago. That was just before the Russians exploded their first atomic device.

In terms of the East-West power relationship, he said, this creates a danger which forces the free nations to increase their unity and cooperation.

"I think that we do face a situation," he said, "where the danger is so great, where the consequences of not combining are so serious both in terms of military effectiveness and in terms of the cost of sustaining a military establishment, that there will be increasing acceptance of that point of view."

France as well as Britain has asked for missiles, and other European governments are understood to be interested.

The United States, for its part, needs advanced bases for intermediate range missiles if they are to serve the purpose of deterring the Soviets from aggression.

Witness in Probe Quits Editor's Post

NEW YORK (AP)—Merlyn S. Pitzele, who told Senate rackets probers last week that he took money from the Teamsters Union while he headed the New York State Mediation Board, has resigned as an editor for Business Week magazine.

Pitzele, 46, was campaign labor adviser to President Eisenhower in 152 and 1956.

The labor economist's resignation was announced Monday, three days after he told Senate investigators in Washington that he had collected $15,000 from the Teamsters in a three-year period.

Jeff Operetta To Be Staged Thursday, Friday

'WORDS AND MUSIC', Jeffersonville High School's two-act operetta, brings forth a lot of sound and fury -- most of it funny -- from these six lead characters. From left, they are Alva Hanners, the janitor; Karen Carmen, the dean of women; David Morrow, the college president; Larry Burson, the dean of men; Gary Arnold, secretary to the dean of men; and Nancy Allen, secretary to the dean of women. (Record-Herald photo)

Real life almost mirrored art, but the Jeffersonville High School Junior Class has overcome some heavy hazards and will be ready to present its two-act operetta "Words and Music" on the docket for Thursday and Friday nights.

The plot of the operetta involves mythical Barton College where the music instructor is too ill to direct the school's traditional operetta. The deans of the college and the students tumble through a cockeyed array of antics as they try to get on without him.

That's almost what happened at Jeff. Director Walter L. Hurd, the school's music instructor, has been out with the flu. But he's back at work now, and the show can go on.

KAREN CARMAN and Larry Burson star in the full dress production as the deans, with David Morrow playing the part of the college president. Acting as the dean's secretaries are Nancy Allen and Gary Arnold. Alva Hanners will be cast as a janitor.

A chorus of 25 and a dance team of 32 students will participate. Four dance numbers are on the program.

The community orchestra, under the direction of Karl J. Kay, will assist.

Tickets, which may be purchased at the school now or at the door the night of performance, are reserved.

Builder Is Accused Of Fleecing Patron

TOLEDO (AP)—Marvin L. Adelson, 41, operator of Ohio-Michigan Builders, Inc., was arrested Monday for fleecing a home owner out of $1,800. Prosecuting Attorney Harry Friberg said there have been a long series of complaints against the concern.

The indictment accuses Adelson of charging Ozie Nunn $1,800 for remodeling work after assuring him all bills for material and labor had been paid.

Ohio - Michigan Builders was formed last May, but no longer is doing business.

New French Premier Tags Algeria as No. 1 Issue

Voted into office after the nation's longest postwar Cabinet crisis, Felix Gaillard told the National Assembly he would demand adoption of the Algerian home rule bill on which the last government of Maurice Bourges-Mounoury foundered Sept. 30. But Gaillard said he would accept amendments to give greater weight to the votes of French residents.

That might appease the French in Algeria. However, it appeared likely the Arab rebels would reject Gaillard's bill, just as they did Bourges - Maunoury's. The rebels demand independence.

The 38-year-old financial expert, youngest French government chief since Napoleon Bonaparte, said the second order of business would be to ease the grave financial crisis. He promised a strict 1958 budget and 100 billion francs—238 million dollars—in new taxes, and said he would ask for special financial powers, presumably to cut expenses by decree.

Although he did not mention it in his speech, Gaillard also is expected to seek a loan from the United States or West Germany to meet the acute foreign exchange shortage.

Most observers considered general weariness with the long crisis had far more to do with the parties getting together than the grave problems facing France. Nearly all important party leaders remained outside Gaillard's cabinet.

U. S. Expected To Seek New Missile Layout

String of Bases Near Red Targets Seen American Goal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to propose to allied nations the creation of a network of missiles bases within striking distance of Soviet targets.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference Tuesday that while the United States has already made arrangements with Britain for establishment of an intermediate range missiles unit in the British Isles he thought "it would be desirable to have them elsewhere."

The missiles involved would be those which, like the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force Thor, have an operational range of about 1,500 miles.

The arrangement made with the British at the Bermuda Conference last spring provides for the United States to furnish the missiles to Britain. Supplies of atomic or hydrogen warheads also would be kept close by, but those would remain in control of the United States ready for use if war broke out.

Dulles pictured the United States as being behind Russia in the development of ballistics missiles but said "I feel assured that we can catch up."

Dulles said that barring a breakdown in the Soviet system, he does not think the United States will ever again have the wide margin of superiority in military power which it had over the Soviet Union 10 years ago. That was just before the Russians exploded their first atomic device.

In terms of the East-West power relationship, he said, this creates a danger which forces the free nations to increase their unity and cooperation.

"I think that we do face a situation," he said, "where the danger is so great, where the consequences of not combining are so serious both in terms of military effectiveness and in terms of the cost of sustaining a military establishment, that there will be increasing acceptance of that point of view."

France as well as Britain has asked for missiles, and other European governments are understood to be interested.

The United States, for its part, needs advanced bases for intermediate range missiles if they are to serve the purpose of deterring the Soviets from aggression.

Witness in Probe Quits Editor's Post

NEW YORK (AP)—Merlyn S. Pitzele, who told Senate rackets probers last week that he took money from the Teamsters Union while he headed the New York State Mediation Board, has resigned as an editor for Business Week magazine.

Pitzele, 46, was campaign labor adviser to President Eisenhower in 152 and 1956.

The labor economist's resignation was announced Monday, three days after he told Senate investigators in Washington that he had collected $15,000 from the Teamsters in a three-year period.

Jeff Operetta To Be Staged Thursday, Friday

'WORDS AND MUSIC', Jeffersonville High School's two-act operetta, brings forth a lot of sound and fury -- most of it funny -- from these six lead characters. From left, they are Alva Hanners, the janitor; Karen Carmen, the dean of women; David Morrow, the college president; Larry Burson, the dean of men; Gary Arnold, secretary to the dean of men; and Nancy Allen, secretary to the dean of women. (Record-Herald photo)

Real life almost mirrored art, but the Jeffersonville High School Junior Class has overcome some heavy hazards and will be ready to present its two-act operetta "Words and Music" on the docket for Thursday and Friday nights.

The plot of the operetta involves mythical Barton College where the music instructor is too ill to direct the school's traditional operetta. The deans of the college and the students tumble through a cockeyed array of antics as they try to get on without him.

That's almost what happened at Jeff. Director Walter L. Hurd, the school's music instructor, has been out with the flu. But he's back at work now, and the show can go on.

KAREN CARMAN and Larry Burson star in the full dress production as the deans, with David Morrow playing the part of the college president. Acting as the dean's secretaries are Nancy Allen and Gary Arnold. Alva Hanners will be cast as a janitor.

A chorus of 25 and a dance team of 32 students will participate. Four dance numbers are on the program.

The community orchestra, under the direction of Karl J. Kay, will assist.

Tickets, which may be purchased at the school now or at the door the night of performance, are reserved.

Builder Is Accused Of Fleecing Patron

TOLEDO (AP)—Marvin L. Adelson, 41, operator of Ohio-Michigan Builders, Inc., was arrested Monday for fleecing a home owner out of $1,800. Prosecuting Attorney Harry Friberg said there have been a long series of complaints against the concern.

The indictment accuses Adelson of charging Ozie Nunn $1,800 for remodeling work after assuring him all bills for material and labor had been paid.

New French Premier Tags Algeria as No. 1 Issue

Voted into office after the nation's longest postwar Cabinet crisis, Felix Gaillard told the National Assembly he would demand adoption of the Algerian home rule bill on which the last government of Maurice Bourges-Mounoury foundered Sept. 30. But Gaillard said he would accept amendments to give greater weight to the votes of French residents.

That might appease the French in Algeria. However, it appeared likely the Arab rebels would reject Gaillard's bill, just as they did Bourges-Maunoury's. The rebels demand independence.

The 38-year-old financial expert, youngest French government chief since Napoleon Bonaparte, said the second order of business would be to ease the grave financial crisis. He promised a strict 1958 budget and 100 billion francs—238 million dollars—in new taxes, and said he would ask for special financial powers, presumably to cut expenses by decree.

Although he did not mention it in his speech, Gaillard also is expected to seek a loan from the United States or West Germany to meet the acute foreign exchange shortage.

The new government contains representatives of all National Assembly parties except the Communists on the extreme left and the Poujadists on the extreme right.

Most observers considered general weariness with the long crisis had far more to do with the parties getting together than the grave problems facing France. Nearly all important party leaders remained outside Gaillard's cabinet.

Great Lakes Ports May See A-Powered Ships in Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic-powered ships may be docking at Great Lakes ports some years after the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed. The Seaway is scheduled for opening in spring, 1959.

A Maritime Administration official, while not making any predictions, said today the government hopes atomic ships will be under construction commercially in about five years.

The government already has launched a program to build the first atomic - powered merchant ship, at a cost of about 40 million dollars.

Machinery for this vessel is being built by Babcock & Wilcox Co., chiefly at its plant in Lynchburg, Va. The Maritime Administration expects to award the contract for the ship itself some time this month. Completion date is 1960.

This first experimental ship, however, probably will not enter the Great Lakes since its draft—29½ feet—will be too deep for the Seaway's controlling depth of 27 feet.

Atomic Energy Commission officials say this ship will be much more expensive to operate than conventionally fueled ships.

On the other hand, they expect and hope that subsequent ships will be commercially competitive with present day ships.

Rep. Dennison (R-Ohio) said in a statement:

"Atomic powered merchant ships will connect the Great Lakes with the rest of the world shortly after the St. Lawrence Seaway is in operation.

"Atomic-powered ships are expected to mean cleaner and safer harbors throughout the Great Lakes region. They will emit no smoke or fumes and will eliminate the need for coal and fuel oil installations at dockside.

"They will be able to go two years without refueling, greatly reducing lay-over time during the Great Lakes shipping season."

Farm Program Battle Looming

Groups Prepare Stands For Next Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Battle lines were forming this week for an impending fight in the next session of Congress over federal farm programs.

The National Milk Producers Federation started the pre-session maneuvering at its annual convention at Cincinnati this week. Other farm organizations will follow with similar meetings in the weeks ahead.

These meetings will be held at a time when farm income is lagging behind that of other elements of the economy and when farm policies and programs of the Eisenhower administration are under attack. There are renewed demands from critics that Secretary of Agriculture Benson resign.

The Milk Producers Federation, like several of its sister farm organizations, is dissatisfied with government milk programs. It is expected to make a new demand for "self - help" programs that would permit the dairy industry to handle its own problems of production adjustments and surplus disposal.

The National Grange will hold its convention at Colorado Springs Nov. 11-20. The Grange wants to replace administration programs for major crops with what it calls a multiple price system. Under this, domestically consumed portions of crops would be supported at a relatively high price. Additional supplies would be allowed to seek whatever price they could command in world markets as well as in supplemental uses. In the past the administration has opposed such a program.

All of Ohio Aides Urged Get Flu Shots

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill wants all 40,000 of Ohio's state employes to get Asian flu vaccination shots.

Chalmers Wylie, assistant to the governor, said the chief executive had written a letter to that effect to all department heads.

Wylie said about one-fourth of the state employes already have obtained influenza shots. They include employes in the health and mental hygiene and correction departments and the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Wylie said the governor hopes each department can work at details that will enable employes to get the vaccine free.

Wylie also announced the appointment of Paul Tague Jr. of Columbus as an executive secretary to the governor, effective Nov. 15. Tague is an assistant attorney general assigned to the Utilities Commission.

He will replace John Shoemaker in the $12,000-a-year post. Part of his duties will include working on extradition and commutation matters and he also will have general administrative duties.

Wylie said it is likely Shoemaker will be given another state job.

Appointment of Roger F. Knittel of Lakewood to a three-year term on the Accountancy Board of Ohio also was announced today. Knittel is a certified public accountant and was appointed to fill a Democratic vacancy on the by-partisan board.

Wylie also said the governor's Committee on Education Beyond High School will meet at 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 14. Dr. John C. Baker, president of Ohio University and chairman of the committee, will make a progress report on future needs for facilities and teachers.

Foreign Affairs Play Role in U. S. Business

Consumer Thinking Feels Effects of Various Happenings

By SAM DAWSON

It's what the effect will be on business and consumer thinking: 1. of the Russian boast of new sources of power for space rockets; 2. its simultaneous withdrawal from the United Nation's disarmament talks; and 3. the dumping of Marshal Zhukov with its implication of one-man rule of Russia by a person whose emotional stability, judgment and sense of responsibility is questioned.

While it fervently hopes that peaceful counsel will prevail, American industry is always sensitive to talk of war, threats of war, or—worse—the chance of war. The wide spread belief that business as a whole fattens on war doesn't hold water.

True, industries closely tied to defense production get government orders. To fill them the companies often must drop civilian production on which they say they have a chance of better profits.

For business as a whole, international disturbances even short of war threaten the cutting off of sources of materials, the loss of skilled workmen to defense plants or the armed forces, and usually sharply curtailed consumer spending, when the government moves to halt any war scare buying of the first days.

And the goods the defense plants turn out don't raise the nation's total wealth. They are made to be destroyed, not to be used to raise standards of living.

The great prosperity of the last two years has been a prosperity of peace. The Defense Department is spending about 38 billion dollars this year. Even if defense spending were doubled next year, it would still be but one sixth of the civilian segment of the gross national product.

What worries businessmen now is what could happen to this civilian segment if business and consumer nerves are overly jangled by all the missile rattling by the Kremlin.

The stock market's reaction to the first Sputnik illustrates this. The missile makers' stocks went up in price, but the great majority of stocks went down. Increased world tension doesn't help business, stock traders hold.

Commodity traders take a different slant. When world supplies and distribution of commodities seems threatened, the commodities readily available look more valuable.

A fathom was originally the distance between the tips of a man's two middle fingers when his arms were outstretched. Later this was standardized to six feet.

Boys Choir Issues Call For Singers

The Fayette County Boys Choir, now in its second year, has issued a call for volunteers to take part in its Christmas music programs.

Although first rehearsals were held more than a month ago, Mrs. Robert E. Willis, organizer and director of the group, points out that there is still room for boys who can sing and who would like to be members of a self-governing choral unit which already is receiving numerous requests to appear on programs, not only in Fayette County but elsewhere.

The choir, now a well disciplined group of 20, rehearses each Monday and Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Willis home, 622 Van Deman Ave.

Mrs. Charles Lutz is choir mother; Richard Wood is treasurer, and Mrs. Wood acts as project chairman. Choir members will sell boxed Christmas candy as a money-making venture.

Mrs. Willis, who disclosed that the choir has received an invitation to sing for the Officer' Wives' Club at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, during the first week in December, emphasized that those who wish to become members of the group should make application this week.

Solon Says Farmer Deserves U. S. Help

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said he believes farmers "have every right to turn to the government for help in ways to strengthen their bargaining power."

The senator told the National Milk Producers Federation Tuesday that President Eisenhower should act to bolster farm income.

Surgery Gives Baby New Breathing Opening

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An infant born without a nose or even a nasal opening to breathe through is now developing normally as a result of plastic surgery, two Cleveland surgeons report.

Dr. John D. Des Prez and Dr. Clifford L. Kiehn, both of Western Reserve University, told the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery the surgery was performed when the infant was four months old. Until then, the baby breathed through a tube inserted in the throat.

Strap-On Helicopter Crashes During Test

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A strap-on helicopter developed at a cost of $500,000 has been wrecked in a crash that injured the pilot.

"The Pinwheel," as the experimental craft is known, plunged from an altitude of 50 feet at Van Nuys Metropolitan Airport when its throttle stuck.

Pilot Dick Whitehead suffered a fractured right ankle.

President Gilbert Magill of Rotor-Craft Corp. of Glendale said the craft was to have been delivered to the Navy this week.

The vet thinks "Lucky" soon will be able to jump and run as well as ever, after the braces are removed. (International)

Airmen To Probe Whatnik in Sky

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Authorities at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton say they will investigate reporst of a strange blue light reported seen in Springfield's southern sky Tuesday.

Two Springfield policemen, Sgt. Edward J. Glenn and Patrolman Keith I. Rutherford, reported seeing a "frosty" blue light for about 10 seconds over Springfield's South Side around 4:50 a.m. They said it was larger than a search light beam, but that when they investigated they found nothing.

Iranian Shah Shuns Appeal from Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press has revealed that the Shah of Iran last month turned down an appeal from Soviet President Voroshilov for moral support in the Turkish-Syrian crisis.

Voroshilov said in a letter dated Sept. 27 that the Middle East was threatened with war. He cited the invasion of Egypt last year, subsequent trouble in Oman and Yemen and Turkish troop concentrations o the Syrian border.

The Shah replied Oct. 15 that the Turkish government had given "sufficient clarification" of its troop reinforcements.

Salesman of Bibles Uses Unusual Tactics

AKRON (AP)—A salesman used an unusual approach trying to convince a Summit County woman that she should buy a Bible.

Unsuccessful in his efforts to force the door open, the man obtained an ax from a nearby garage and started chopping his way through the door, she said.

Mrs. Zabukovic said she frightened the man away by telling him that she had called the sheriff.

Commission Sets Turnpike Cafe Plan

CLEVELAND (AP)—Private firms now operating restaurants on the Ohio Turnpike need not bid on a contract to operate six Turnpike eating places now being run by the commission itself.

The commission is trying to get out of the restaurant business. It wants a nationally-known firm to operate the six restaurants taken over by the commission when the service provided by a former operator was ruled unsatisfactory.

Specifications adopted at a commission meeting Tuesday will exclude the two firms now operating restaurants at plazas on the Turnpike. They are the ABC Vending Co. of Chicago and Buddies Food Services, Inc., of Toledo.

A contract is expected to be awarded next month.

Ruling Is Given On Double Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled Tuesday that a person cannot be a member of the board of education of a local school district and hold the newly created post of county administrator at the same time.

In a ruling to the Lawrence County prosecutor's office, Saxbe said that, in budgetary matters, the person would be subject to a division of loyalty between the board of education of which he is a member, and the board that employs him.

U. S. Expected To Seek New Missile Layout

String of Bases Near Red Targets Seen American Goal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to propose to allied nations the creation of a network of missiles bases within striking distance of Soviet targets.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference Tuesday that while the United States has already made arrangements with Britain for establishment of an intermediate range missiles unit in the British Isles he thought "it would be desirable to have them elsewhere."

The missiles involved would be those which, like the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force Thor, have an operational range of about 1,500 miles.

The arrangement made with the British at the Bermuda Conference last spring provides for the United States to furnish the missiles to Britain. Supplies of atomic or hydrogen warheads also would be kept close by, but those would remain in control of the United States ready for use if war broke out.

Dulles pictured the United States as being behind Russia in the development of ballistics missiles but said "I feel assured that we can catch up."

Dulles said that barring a breakdown in the Soviet system, he does not think the United States will ever again have the wide margin of superiority in military power which it had over the Soviet Union 10 years ago. That was just before the Russians exploded their first atomic device.

In terms of the East-West power relationship, he said, this creates a danger which forces the free nations to increase their unity and cooperation.

"I think that we do face a situation," he said, "where the danger is so great, where the consequences of not combining are so serious both in terms of military effectiveness and in terms of the cost of sustaining a military establishment, that there will be increasing acceptance of that point of view."

France as well as Britain has asked for missiles, and other European governments are understood to be interested.

The United States, for its part, needs advanced bases for intermediate range missiles if they are to serve the purpose of deterring the Soviets from aggression.

Witness in Probe Quits Editor's Post

NEW YORK (AP)—Merlyn S. Pitzele, who told Senate rackets probers last week that he took money from the Teamsters Union while he headed the New York State Mediation Board, has resigned as an editor for Business Week magazine.

Pitzele, 46, was campaign labor adviser to President Eisenhower in 152 and 1956.

The labor economist's resignation was announced Monday, three days after he told Senate investigators in Washington that he had collected $15,000 from the Teamsters in a three-year period.

Jeff Operetta To Be Staged Thursday, Friday

'WORDS AND MUSIC', Jeffersonville High School's two-act operetta, brings forth a lot of sound and fury -- most of it funny -- from these six lead characters. From left, they are Alva Hanners, the janitor; Karen Carmen, the dean of women; David Morrow, the college president; Larry Burson, the dean of men; Gary Arnold, secretary to the dean of men; and Nancy Allen, secretary to the dean of women. (Record-Herald photo)

Real life almost mirrored art, but the Jeffersonville High School Junior Class has overcome some heavy hazards and will be ready to present its two-act operetta "Words and Music" on the docket for Thursday and Friday nights.

The plot of the operetta involves mythical Barton College where the music insirructor is too ill to direct the school's traditional operetta. The deans of the college and the students tumble through a cockeyed array of antics as they try to get on without him.

That's almost what happened at Jeff. Director Walter L. Hurd, the school's music instructor, has been out with the flu. But he's back at work now, and the show can go on.

KAREN CARMAN and Larry Burson star in the full dress production as the deans, with David Morrow playing the part of the college president. Acting as the dean's secretaries are Nancy Allen and Gary Arnold. Alva Hanners will be cast as a janitor.

A chorus of 25 and a dance team of 32 students will participate. Four dance numbers are on the program.

The community orchestra, under the direction of Karl J. Kay, will assist.

Tickets, which may be purchased at the school now or at the door the night of performance, are reserved.

Builder Is Accused Of Fleecing Patron

TOLEDO (AP)—Marvin L. Adelson, 41, operator of Ohio-Michigan Builders, Inc., was arrested Monday for fleecing a home owner out of $1,800. Prosecuting Attorney Harry Friberg said there have been a long series of complaints against the concern.

The indictment accuses Adelson of charging Ozie Nunn $1,800 for remodeling work after assuring him all bills for material and labor had been paid.

New French Premier Tags Algeria as No. 1 Issue

Voted into office after the nation's longest postwar Cabinet crisis, Felix Gaillard told the National Assembly he would demand adoption of the Algerian home rule bill on which the last government of Maurice Bourges-Mounoury foundered Sept. 30. But Gaillard said he would accept amendments to give greater weight to the votes of French residents.

That might appease the French in Algeria. However, it appeared likely the Arab rebels would reject Gaillard's bill, just as they did Bourges-Maunoury's. The rebels demand independence.

The 38-year-old financial expert, youngest French government chief since Napoleon Bonaparte, said the second order of business would be to ease the grave financial crisis. He promised a strict 1958 budget and 100 billion francs—238 million dollars—in new taxes, and said he would ask for special financial powers, presumably to cut expenses by decree.

Although he did not mention it in his speech, Gaillard also is expected to seek a loan from the United States or West Germany to meet the acute foreign exchange shortage.

Most observers considered general weariness with the long crisis had far more to do with the parties getting together than the grave problems facing France. Nearly all important party leaders remained outside Gaillard's cabinet.

No Inter-Island Ship Service So Hawaiians Travel by Plane

By SANFORD MARKEY
Central Press Assn

Water, water everywhere, yet not a boat is used for transportation.

Such is the story from Hawaii, where six major islands, surrounded entirely by the Pacific ocean, don't travel.

Airplanes are the exclusive procedure for island hopping that, in the course of a year, will see the airplane carry more passengers than there are inhabitants of the islands.

In 1955, for example, 619,486 persons traveled among the islands even though the population was just over 500,000. About 25 per cent was estimated as tourist trade; the rest native population.

The regular airlines fly the trolley schedule between the islands, operating as many as 705 flights a week, with the farthest point from any one spot being no more than around 80 minutes.

They serve as many as 13 separate airports, not including Honolulu's International airport.

• • •

ONCE THERE was an inter-island steamship line, but flight time soon put it out of business. There is talk, too, of a tunnel between the islands, but that is far too expensive.

Meanwhile, the airlines continue to offer commuter service, with businessmen taking the early morning plane out of Honolulu, spending the letter part of a day on one of the "outer" islands, then returning home for supper.

Housewives, too, on shopping trips fly from the outer islands to Honolulu, while residents of one island frequently visit the other for either a vacation or an afternoon social.

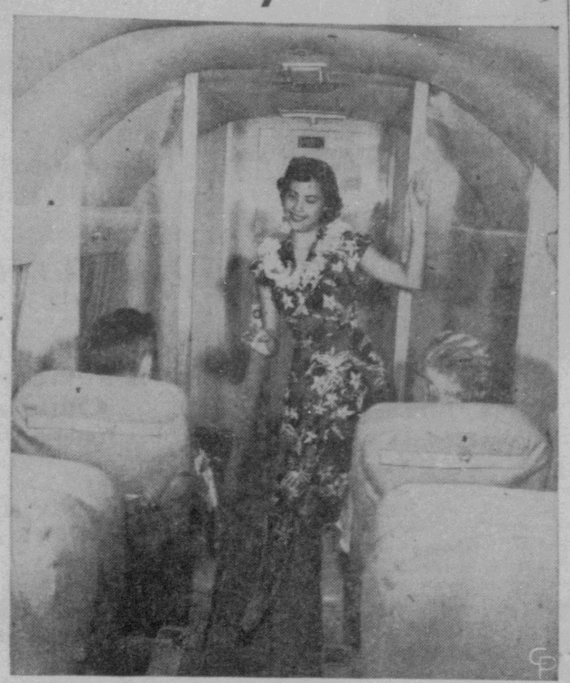

With the influx of larger number of tourists, island-hopping by plane has become a "must" on the tourist parade. Since all flights are made during daylight hours, the tourist can play a series of intergrated flights to enjoy the scenes leisurely living and the bustle of Waikiki.

• • •

LAST YEAR alone, over 75,000 of the more than 130,000 vacationers who visited the Hawaiian islands stopped on two or more islands in the Polynesian groupl

From bush Honlulu's International airport, it is only 40 minutes to Maui, the "Valley Isle" where Haleakala, the world's largest dormant volcanic crater awaits the tourist. There are two excellent resort hotels on the island, Maui Palms, and Hana-Maui, at Hana, the latter having its own airport.

• • •

SOUTH OF MAUI, about 30 minutes airtime, is Hawaii, the "Big Island" and capital of the world's orchid industry. Both Hilo, the principal city, and Kona, the fisherman's paradise, have their own airports.

A live volcano, the world's second largest cattle ranch, and lava flows are other spots for tourists. In fact, the longest non-stop flight is from Honolulu to Hilo, a total of 250 miles, at a cost of just over $15, flight time 65 minutes.

North of Honolulu, 40 minutes by air, is Kauai, the "Garden Island," lushest of the Hawaiian group. The airport is at the county seat of Lihue, and the fine resorts include Coco Palms; the high points for tourists include Waimea canyon and several lovely beaches.

• • •

MOLOKAI, as yet unexplored by tourists, is a 20-minute flight from Honolulu, while Lanai, the "Pineapple Island," also off the tourist track, is but minuted away.

Both airlines also have extensive cargo handling facilities, with a daily shipping list that can vary from orchids, animals and houshold goods to just plain supplies.

Recently, the Aloha air line installed a series of Vistaliners with specially arranged windowns to allow passengers to use their cameras with greater ease.

As a special flair, juices are served at all times with hostesses delivering the pineapple concoctions attired in pleasant eye-appealing native dress.

SAC Bomb Crews Getting Too Good, Competition Shows

PENSACOLA AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Bomber crews of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) are getting so good at their job that the Air Force is seeking new ways to keep the score down.

Lt. Gen. Francis Griswold, deputy commander of SAC, reported this today as he presided at an award ceremony for winners of SAC's annual bombing, navigation and reconnaissance competition.

"Things are just getting too easy and we will have to adopt some new rules next year to keep those scores down," Griswold said.

The top award in the six-day competition ending Tuesday is the Fairchild Trophy for the wing with the best over-all scores.

U. S. Sugar Price Holding Stable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices of sugar are among the most stable of those of all food products housewives buy.

An Agriculture Department report showed today that the average annual retail price has varied less than a cent a pound during the past five years.

These prices averaged 10.47 cents during the 1952-56 period. So far this year the average has been about 10.9 cents. Generally speaking prices are lowest in the Midwest and Rocky Mountain areas, reflecting their nearness to production areas of beet sugar.

Officials said that a major factor in stabilizing prices is the operation of a sugar control program which regulates marketings.

Foreign Affairs Play Role in U. S. Business

Consumer Thinking Feels Effects of Various Happenings

By SAM DAWSON

It's what the effect will be on business and consumer thinking: 1. of the Russian boast of new sources of power for space rockets; 2. its simultaneous withdrawal from the United Nation's disarmament talks; and 3. the dumping of Marshal Zhukov with its implication of one-man rule of Russia by a person whose emotional stability, judgment and sense of responsibility is questioned.

While it fervently hopes that peaceful counsel will prevail, American industry is always sensitive to talk of war, threats of war, or—worse—the chance of war. The wide spread belief that business as a whole fattens on war doesn't hold water.

True, industries closely tied to defense production get government orders. To fill them the companies often must drop civilian production on which they say they have a chance of better profits.

For business as a whole, international disturbances even short of war threaten the cutting off of sources of materials, the loss of skilled workmen to defense plants or the armed forces, and usually sharply curtailed consumer spending, when the government moves to halt any war scare buying of the first days.

And the goods the defense plants turn out don't raise the nation's total wealth. They are made to be destroyed, not to be used to raise standards of living.

The great prosperity of the last two years has been a prosperity of peace. The Defense Department is spending about 38 billion dollars this year. Even if defense spending were doubled next year, it would still be but one sixth of the civilian segment of the gross national product.

What worries businessmen now is what could happen to this civilian segment if business and consumer nerves are overly jangled by all the missile rattling by the Kremlin.

The stock market's reaction to the first Sputnik illustrates this. The missile makers' stocks went up in price, but the great majority of stocks went down. Increased world tension doesn't help business, stock traders hold.

Commodity traders take a different slant. When world supplies and distribution of commodities seems threatened, the commodities readily available look more valuable.

A fathom was originally the distance between the tips of a man's two middle fingers when his arms were outstretched. Later this was standardized to six feet.

Boys Choir Issues Call For Singers

The Fayette County Boys Choir, now in its second year, has issued a call for volunteers to take part in its Christmas music programs.

Although first rehearsals were held more than a month ago, Mrs. Robert E. Willis, organizer and director of the group, points out that there is still room for boys who can sing and who would like to be members of a self-governing choral unit which already is receiving numerous requests to appear on programs, not only in Fayette County but elsewhere.

The choir, now a well disciplined group of 20, rehearses each Monday and Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Willis home, 622 Van Deman Ave.

Mrs. Charles Lutz is choir mother; Richard Wood is treasurer, and Mrs. Wood acts as project chairman. Choir members will sell boxed Christmas candy as a money-making venture.

Mrs. Willis, who disclosed that the choir has received an invitation to sing for the Officer' Wives' Club at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, during the first week in December, emphasized that those who wish to become members of the group should make application this week.

Solon Says Farmer Deserves U. S. Help

Surgery Gives Baby New Breathing Opening

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An infant born without a nose or even a nasal opening to breathe through is now developing normally as a result of plastic surgery, two Cleveland surgeons report.

Dr. John D. Des Prez and Dr. Clifford L. Kiehn, both of Western Reserve University, told the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery the surgery was performed when the infant was four months old. Until then, the baby breathed through a tube inserted in the throat.

Strap-On Helicopter Crashes During Test

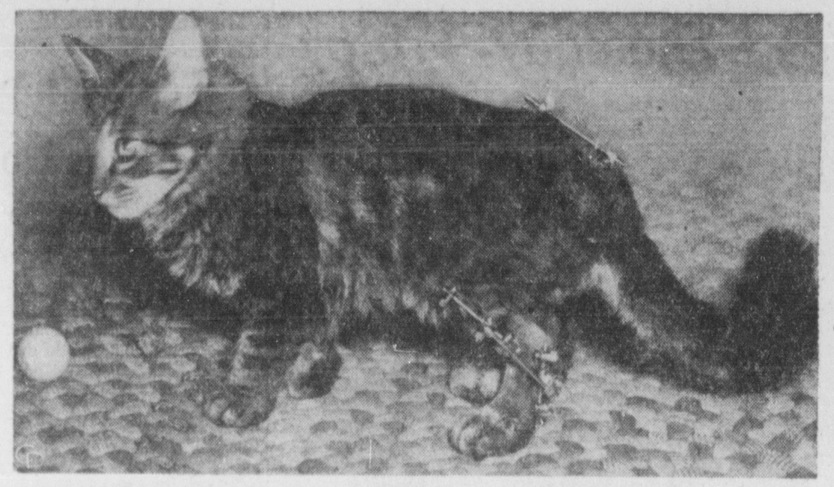

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A strap-on helicopter developed at a cost of $500,000 has been wrecked in a crash that injured the pilot.

"The Pinwheel," as the experimental craft is known, plunged from an altitude of 50 feet at Van Nuys Metropolitan Airport when its throttle stuck.

Pilot Dick Whitehead suffered a fractured right ankle.

President Gilbert Magill of Rotor-Craft Corp. of Glendale said the craft was to have been delivered to the Navy this week.

The American production of mink fur has doubled in the past eight years.

LUCKY "LUCKY"—Left to die by a hit-skip motorist in Long Beach, Calif., a young, striped, female tiger cat was taken to the office of a veterinarian to be put to sleep. Instead, the vet took X-rays and found the animal's pelvis and hind legs were broken. He set the bones and constructed an intricate system of pins and braces. The vet thinks "Lucky" soon will be able to jump and run as well as ever, after the braces are removed. (International)

Airmen To Probe Whatnik in Sky

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Authorities at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton say they will investigate reports of a strange blue light reported seen in Springfield's southern sky Tuesday.

Two Springfield policemen, Sgt. Edward J. Glenn and Patrolman Keith I. Rutherford, reported seeing a "frosty" blue light for about 10 seconds over Springfield's South Side around 4:50 a.m. They said it was larger than a search light beam, but that when they investigated they found nothing.

At about the same time, a motorist, Julius Roseman, reported his car stopped while he was driving to work. The engine of a taxi beside him also quit at the same moment, Roseman reported.

Iranian Shah Shuns Appeal from Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press has revealed that the Shah of Iran last month turned down an appeal from Soviet President Voroshilov for moral support in the Turkish-Syrian crisis.

Voroshilov said in a letter dated Sept. 27 that the Middle East was threatened with war. He cited the invasion of Egypt last year, subsequent trouble in Oman and Yemen and Turkish troop concentrations o the Syrian border.

The Shah replied Oct. 15 that the Turkish government had given "sufficient clarification" of its troop reinforcements.

Salesman of Bibles Uses Unusual Tactics

AKRON (AP)—A salesman used an unusual approach trying to convince a Summit County woman that she should buy a Bible.

Mrs. S. S. Zabukovic, of Sagamore Hills, told sheriff's deputies she shut the door after telling the salesman she did not want to make a purchase.

Unsuccessful in his efforts to force the door open, the man obtained an ax from a nearby garage and started chopping his way through the door, she said.

Mrs. Zabukovic said she frightened the man away by telling him that she had called the sheriff.

He said the lessons are mailed quarterly along with pointers to aid in their use.

Israel Bomb-Hurler Is Denied Freedom

JERUSALEM (AP) — Jerusalem District Court has turned down Moshe Jacob Ben-Doueg's request for freedom while awaiting trial for hurling a hand grenade in parliament last week.

Air Board Given Plans Effecting Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recommendations involving Ohio communities were submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Tuesday by a CAB examiner.

They include:

1. Extension of Delta Airlines' Miami-Atlanta-Chicago route from Cincinnati to Detroit via Dayton, Columbus and Toledo, Ohio; certification of Tampa-St. Petersburg and Orlando as intermediate points on Delta's Miami - Jacksonville route.

2. Extension of Capital Airlines service from Pittsburgh to Buffalo via Youngstown, Akron and Cleveland, Ohio, and Erie, Pa. Capital would be prohibited from operating between Erie and Cleveland except on flights also serving Atlanta and Miami.

3. Extension of Eastern Air Lines service from Charleston, W. Va., to Chicago via Cincinnati, and from Louisville to Detroit via Cincinnati and Fort Wayne, Ind.

4. Removal of a long-haul restriction which now prohibits Trans World Airlines from operating "turnaround" — or shuttle—service between Chicago and Washington, D. C., and removal of a further restriction prohibiting TWA from providing service between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

5. Removal of a long-haul restriction prohibiting United Airlines from operating turnaround service between Chicago and Washington, and permitting UAL to make Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, intermediate points on its Chicago-Washington route.

Commission Sets Turnpike Cafe Plan

CLEVELAND (AP)—Private firms now operating restaurants on the Ohio Turnpike need not bid on a contract to operate six Turnpike eating places now being run by the commission itself.

The commission is trying to get out of the restaurant business. It wants a nationally-known firm to operate the six restaurants taken over by the commission when the service provided by a former operator was ruled unsatisfactory.

Specifications adopted at a commission meeting Tuesday will exclude the two firms now operating restaurants at plazas on the Turnpike. They are the ABC Vending Co. of Chicago and Buddies Food Services, Inc., of Toledo.

A contract is expected to be awarded next month.

Ruling Is Given On Double Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled Tuesday that a person cannot be a member of the board of education of a local school district and hold the newly created post of county administrator at the same time.

In a ruling to the Lawrence County prosecutor's office, Saxbe said that, in budgetary matters, the person would be subject to a division of loyalty between the board of education of which he is a member, and the board that employs him.

No Inter-Island Ship Service So Hawaiians Travel by Plane

By SANFORD MARKEY
Central Press Assn

Water, water everywhere, yet not a boat is used for transportation.

Such is the story from Hawaii, where six major islands, surrounded entirely by the Pacific ocean, don't travel.

Airplanes are the exclusive procedure for island hopping that, in the course of a year, will see the airplane carry more passengers than there are inhabitants of the islands.

In 1955, for example, 619,486 persons traveled among the islands even though the population was just over 500,000. About 25 per cent was estimated as tourist trade; the rest native population.

The regular airlines fly the trolley schedule between the islands, operating as many as 705 flights a week, with the farthest point from any one spot being no more than around 80 minutes.

They serve as many as 13 separate airports, not including Honolulu's International airport.

* * *

ONCE THERE was an inter-island steamship line, but flight time soon put it out of business. There is talk, too, of a tunnel between the islands, but that is far too expensive.

Meanwhile, the airlines continue to offer commuter service, with businessmen taking the early morning plane out of Honolulu, spending the letter part of a day on one of the "outer" islands, then returning home for supper.

Housewives, too, on shopping trips fly from the outer islands to Honolulu, while residents of one island frequently visit the other for either a vacation or an afternoon social.

With the influx of larger number of tourists, island-hopping by plane has become a "must" on the tourist parade. Since all flights are made during daylight hours, the tourist can play a series of intergrated flights to enjoy the scenes leisurely living and the bustle of Waikiki.

* * *

LAST YEAR alone, over 75,000 of the more than 130,000 vacationers who visited the Hawaiian islands stopped on two or more islands in the Polynesian group!

From bush Honlulu's International airport, it is only 40 minutes to Maui, the "Valley Isle" where Haleakala, the world's largest dormant volcanic crater awaits the tourist. There are two excellent resort hotels on the island, Maui Palms, and Hana-Maui, at Hana, the latter having its own airport.

* * *

SOUTH OF MAUI, about 30 minutes airtime, is Hawaii, the "Big Island" and capital of the world's orchid industry. Both Hilo, the principal city, and Kona, the fisherman's paradise, have their own airports.

A live volcano, the world's second largest cattle ranch, and lava flows are other spots for tourists. In fact, the longest non-stop flight is from Honolulu to Hilo, a total of 250 miles, at a cost of just over $15, flight time 65 minutes.

North of Honolulu, 40 minutes by air, is Kauai, the "Garden Island," lushest of the Hawaiian group. The airport is at the county seat of Lihue, and the fine resorts include Coco Palms; the high points for tourists include Waimea canyon and several lovely beaches.

* * *

MOLOKAI, as yet unexplored by tourists, is a 20-minute flight from Honolulu, while Lanai, the "Pineapple Island," also off the tourist track, is but minuted away.

Both airlines also have extensive cargo handling facilities, with a daily shipping list that can vary from orchids, animals and houshold goods to just plain supplies.

Recently, the Aloha air line installed a series of Vistaliners with specially arranged windowns to allow passengers to use their cameras with greater ease.

SAC Bomb Crews Getting Too Good, Competition Shows

PENSACOLA AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Bomber crews of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) are getting so good at their job that the Air Force is seeking new ways to keep the score down.

Lt. Gen. Francis Griswold, deputy commander of SAC, reported this today as he presided at an award ceremony for winners of SAC's annual bombing, navigation and reconnaissance competition.

"Things are just getting too easy and we will have to adopt some new rules next year to keep those scores down," Griswold said.

The top award in the six-day competition ending Tuesday is the Fairchild Trophy for the wing with the best over-all scores.

U. S. Sugar Price Holding Stable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices of sugar are among the most stable of those of all food products housewives buy.

An Agriculture Department report showed today that the average annual retail price has varied less than a cent a pound during the past five years.

These prices averaged 10.47 cents during the 1952-56 period. So far this year the average has been about 10.9 cents. Generally speaking prices are lowest in the Midwest and Rocky Mountain areas, reflecting their nearness to production areas of beet sugar.

Officials said that a major factor in stabilizing prices is the operation of a sugar control program which regulates marketings.

Bulldogs Lose To Scioto Team

Bloomingburg's Bulldogs varsity lost their second game of the new basketball season Tuesday night as they bowed to a Scioto Township five, 68-61, on the Pickaway County floor.

The Bloomingburg reserves won 28-28.

Using Duck Bait Brings 5 Fines

TOLEDO (AP)—Five men pleaded guilty Tuesday to hunting ducks in baited areas. U. S. Commissioner John J. Barone fined them and gave them 30-day suspended jail sentences.

Arthur Kruck, 59, of Sandusky, and Ralph Scharman, 43, of Huron were arrested Oct. 25 after Kruck invited charman to a hunting trip in the Kruck marsh in Erie County. Kruck was fined $200 and costs; Scharman $75 and costs.

The other three, all Toledoans, were arrested Oct. 18 in Spross marsh in Ottawa County.

J. Paul Upson, 64, who pleaded guilty in 1955 to hunting in the same marsh, was fined $200. Edward Wright, 45, and George Merrill, 56, each were fined $75.

Tied by Circleville, Tigers Clinch Title!

Although a 13-13 tie was the best Greenfield's Tigers could do against the Tigers at Circleville Tuesday night when they played off a postponed game, that was enough to put the clincher on the 1957 Southcentral Ohio (SCO) League championship.

That game completed the schedule for the Greenfielders, but the Circleville Club still have another game to play. They meet the Lions of WHS there Friday night—and the outcome of that game could determine whether the Lions finish second or third or in a tie with Wilmington's Hurricane for second.

While the Greenfield boys were being unexpectedly deadlocked by Circleville, the Hurricane was keeping in the race by blanking Hillsboro's Indians, 20 to 0, Tuesday night in another postponed game playoff.

Like Circleville, Wilmington still has one game to play with Washington C. H. It will be here Nov. 15, the Homecoming and Band Night.

• • •

Greenfield	3	0	1
Wash. C. H.	1	1	0
Wilmington	2	1	0
Hillsboro	1	3	0
Circleville	0	2	1

The Washington C. H. coaching staff came back from scouting the Greenfield game at Circleville convinced that the Circlevillians are better than their winless SCO record shows and that the Lions will have their hands full when they go to Circleville Friday night for their next-to-last game of the season.

Coach Fred Domenico said the Tigers do "quite a bit of passing" with Quarterback Hosler pitching to both ends and backfield. He said, too, that "they have some good running plays and execute them well. . .we'll have our hands full stopping them."

• • •

The Lions will work on their defense Wednesday evening "because it will have to be changed some to handle the Circleville offense."

Domenico said the Lions may take to the air at Circleville more than they have in previous games this year. Buddy Lynch and Chuck Hire both are improving as passers, he pointed out and added that the receivers have been doing better, too.)

Canadian Bidding for Sulky Crown

COLUMBUS — Billy Haughton, harness racing's leading dash winning driver since 1953, is facing a strong challenger for his crown this season in young William D. Gilmour of Ridgeway, Ontario, whose autumn rush has carried him to within six victories of the lead.

Tabulations by the U.S. Trotting Assn. for races through Nov. 2, credit Haughton with 148 dashes while Gilmour has finished in front on 142 occasions. This season officially closes Nov. 30.

Driving almost exclusively at western New York's Batavia Downs track, Gilmour set a torrid pace for the last four weeks with 32 victories while Haughton, driving at Roosevelt Raceway, N. Y., and commuting to California's Hollywood Park on weekends, was registering 20 successes.

While only 25 years of age, Gilmour is no newcomer to driving honors. He finished third in the national standing last year with 139 dash triumphs and third in 1955 with 115. Haughton won last year with 167 wins and the 34-year-old Brookville, N. Y., reinsman also topped the money-winning list for the fifth straight year. Haughton again is leading in this category this season.

Wilson, LeBaron Pace Pro Gridders

LeBaron has thrown 74 times and completed 47 for 751 yards and an average per attempt of 10.15 yards. Tommy O'Connell of the Browns is next with a 9.27 yard gain per attempt and Lamar McHan of the Chicago Cardinals is third at 8.70.

AP Announces 1957 Major Loop All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Batting champions Ted Williams and Stan Musial, five members of the world champion Milwaukee Braves and three from the New York Yankees today were named to The Associated Press major league All-Star team for 1957.

The remainder of the squad was made up of second baseman Red Schoendienst, third baseman Ed Mathews, outfielder Hank Aaron and pitchers Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette of the Braves; and shortstop Gil McDougald, outfielder Mickey Mantle and catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees.

The closest vote was between second sackers Schoendienst and the White Sox' Nellie Fox. The Milwaukee star was named on 93 ballots and Fox on 86. Another tight one was in the righthanded pitcher category in which Burdette had 75 votes and Jim Bunning of Detroit 66.

Five of the all-stars batted higher than 300. Williams topped the American League with .388. Musial was first in the National with .351. Mantle finished with .365, Aaron .322 and Schoendienst .309. Mathews wound up at .292, McDougald .289 and Berra .251.

Spahn, with a 21-11 record, reached the 20-mark for the eighth time. Burdette won three World Series games after a 17-9 season slate.

Here Are More News Briefs From Midwest Grid Camps

Iowa — The reserves went through a long scrimmage but the first two teams merely jogged around and called it quits. Coach Forest Evashevski warned his players that "Minnesota is exceptionally dangerous."

Ohio State—The Bucks are getting better says Coach Woody Hayes but he fears Purdue. Hayes praised his "diversified offense" and warned Ohio State would "open up when the occasion demands."

Michigan—Injuries have hit the Michigan camp. Quarterback Jim Van Pelt has a pulled leg muscle and halfback Gary Prahst has a sore shoulder. Others sidelined are guard Larry Faul and guard Alex Callahan.

Michigan State — No injuries were suffered by the Spartans in their 21-7 victory over Wisconsin. Notre Dame is next at East Lansing.

Minnesota—The Gophers spent two hours looking over Iowa plays. Every squad member was in uniform except fullback Bob Blakely who has the flu. Blakely is expected to be ready by Saturday.

Purdue — Guard John Jardine might miss the Ohio State game because of a sprained ankle. Bill Spillane moved into Jardine's spot.

Wisconsin — Sophomore tackle Lowell Jenkins was the only casualty of the Michigan State game and will be out the rest of the season with a bone chip in his wrist.

Illinois—Four regulars are sidelined and may miss the Michigan game. They include halfback Dale Smith, end Ron Hill, guard Bill Burrell and tackle Don Yeazel.

Political mudslinging began in ancient Rome. All candidates for office wore the white toga. If they were unpopular, people threw mud at them until their white raiment became the toga defiled by mud.

Indian Chieftains Eye New Manager

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' executive committee met today and the Cleveland Plain Dealer predicted the selection of Bill DeWitt as the club's new general manager.

But the Chicago American reports that Frank Lane, GM of the St. Louis Cardinals, now is the No. 1 Injun choice.

Leading Gridders

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Newman of Washington State College is major college football's new individual offense leader, moving into first place with 1,001 yards made on the ground and through the air.

Statistics released today by the NCAA service bureau show the Cougars' quarterback jumped from sixth a week ago to the top spot by gaining 277 yards against Oregon State last week. He completed 17 of 25 tosses for 243 yards and three touchdowns, but Washington State bowed, 39-25.

4½ Million Pounds of Trash Fish Being Poisoned in Lake

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How would you, as an average angler, react if you found on some pleasant autumn afternoon that someone had purposely poisoned all the fish in a familiar old lake?

It happens, more and more frequently, as modern fish management techniques are applied to lakes around the country.

The idea of poisoning old, unbalanced fishin' holes is old stuff to professionals, but still comes as something of a shock to the individual fisherman when it happens in his own back yard.

The always-increasing pressure to produce more and more game fish for the recreation of more and more fishermen is behind this, as it is behind various other management techniques. In lake rehabilitation, poisoning out the whole native population and starting over with known numbers of properly related species has proved to be a short cut to spectacular success. A lake so handled can be back in production within a year, and within a couple of years can be better than it ever was, in terms of sports fishing.

Biggest such project ever undertaken got underway Monday in water fish commission began a selective eradication campaign Florida, where the state fresh water fish commission began a selective eradication campaign against gizzard shad in 31,000-acre Lake Apopka.

Nearly a score of boats, assisted by airplanes, took on the job of spreading some 6,000 pounds of rotenone, with the anticipation of killing more than 4½ million pounds of the trash shad from the big lake.

Selective poisoning, as a means of improving fishing, has been demonstrated on some other sizable lakes already in Florida's inland lake improvement program. However, the prospect of 4½ million pounds of dead fish floating—and beaching—in Apopka during the next few days may benefit from all the explaining that can be provided.

And the explaining had best be done to windward.

Good Hope Cagers Lose to Salt Creek

Good Hope High School's Mad Anthony cagers were trounced, 69 to 46, by the cagers from Salt Creek at Good Hope Tuesday night, when they were never able to recover from an 18-11 disadvantage at the end of the first period.

The Salt Creek boys sewed up the game in first and last period scoring sprees that overcame the superiority of the Good Hope boys in the second and third periods.

Overly, with 16, and Osborne and Bonecutter, with 10 each, led the Good Hope scoring.

In the fast analysis, it was a tall boy by the name of Valentine that made the difference. He collected 30 points for Salt Creek.

The Good Hope reserves came from behind to beat the Salt Creek reserves 30 to 25 in the preliminary. Strouth led the Good Hope offense with 10 points.

Bucks Again Sniffing Roses; Will They Do It This Year?

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes are right back where they were a year ago—undefeated in Big Ten play and headed for another Western Conference championship.

Ohio State last year blasted past Illinois, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Indiana but ran into Iowa and Michigan, suffered two straight shutouts and finished in a tie for fourth place.

Again the Bucks, who lost their opener to Texas Christian, have pushed past Illinois, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Indiana. And again they must face Iowa and Michigan. However, there's a change in the script this season. Rapidly improving Purdue comes before Iowa and Michigan.

All Ohio State needs is two victories in the last three games to assure a trip to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl. And if one of the two possible victories comes against Iowa, Coach Woody Hayes' crew also will wind up with the conference title.

One reason that the Bucks are not apt to collapse this season is that Ohio State is eligible for the bowl bid. Last year Ohio State was on probation for Big Ten rules infractions.

Coach Hayes admitted to the Chicago football writers Tuesday over a telephone hookup that he's not sure of his team's "staying power." Neither would he make any comparisons between this team and the 1954 and 1955 teams which won successive Big Ten titles.

Hayes fears Purdue and said the Boilermakers have the "best defense in the conference." That game will be regionally televisd (NBC—1:30 p.m. EST).

The Boilermakers have done an about face after losing their first three games to Notre Dame 12-0, Minnesota 21-17, and Wisconsin 23-14. Purdue now is riding a three game winning streak by knocking off Michigan State 20-13, Miami of Ohio 37-6 and Illinois 21-6.

Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf rates Ohio State as "probably the soundest football team we meet this year." That could very well be true but two other coaches don't consider the Bucks tops.

Ara Parseghian, who saw Ohio State maul his Northwestern Wildcats, 47-6, last Saturday, believes the Bucks will have trouble against Purdue, Iowa and Michigan. "Iowa, especially, has the line to stop Ohio State's inside stuff," said Parseghian.

Coach Milt Bruhn, whose Wisconsin team lost to Iowa, Ohio State and Michigan State in order, believes Michigan State is the best of the three. "I'd have to say that on last Saturday, at least," said Bruhn. "All three, however, are very fine teams."

Bond Issues, Tax Levies Get Bad Reception at Polls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With some notable exceptions, bond issues and special tax levy proposals had a rought time of it in local elections throughout Ohio Tuesday.

Biggest proposed bond issue in the state—15 million dollars for a Civic Center in Cleveland—failed to get the required 55 per cent favorable vote despite strong support by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Cleveland did approve, however, 15 million dollars' worth of bonds for highways, bridges and a new incinerator.

Summit County voters turned thumbs down on a 4½-million dollar courthouse and jail in Akron. In suburban Cuyahoga Falls, a 2½-million-dollar bond issue for an expressway relocation of Ohio 8 was defeated when it failed to muster the needed 55 per cent favorable vote.

Geauga County voters decided they could do without a proposed $425,000 jail and office building, but voters approved nearly $800,000 worth of bonds in three Geauga County school districts.

A 3½-million-dollar bond issue for new city schools in Elyria fell short of the required 55 per cent favorable vote. A 4½-million-dollar bond issue for a new Lorain County Courthouse was beaten more than 2-1.

Chillicothe voters, however, approved a 4½-million-dollar issue for new schools. They went a step further by approving a city income tax imposed by council last spring.

But Elyria rejected a four-mill city levy and Painesville turned down a similar levy. East Palestine defeated a one-mill city levy, but approved a three-mill school levy.

Carrollton voted down a three-mill operating levy, leaving the village without funds to pay salaries except for firemen who are paid from a different fund.

Dayton voters went along with two levies, one to build a juvenile center, the other to operate it.

Ashtabula city voters approved a 3½-mill renewal levy for schools and added another three mills for school purposes. Ashtabula Harbor school district approved a $670,000 bond issue for new buildings.

Fremont approved a six-mill school operating levy, three mills new, but Sandusky County voters turned down a $1,135,000 bond issue for a new county home for the aged.

Cleveland voters approved a 1.2-mill, three-year school levy to complete an 18-million-dollar building program. Aso approved overwhelmingly was a bond issue to purchase the former Cleveland Plain Dealer building as an annex to the Cleveland Library.

Woodville, Sandusky County, approved a $320,000 school bond issue and Helena in the same county approved a $145,000 school issue.

East Liverpool approved a two-mill, two-year street light levy.

Toledo approved a 3.6-mill, five-year school operating levy estimated to provide three million dollars annually. More than half the amount will go for teacher pay increases.

St. Marys approved a $995,000 school bond issue.

Wauseon approved $500,000 in bonds, half for schools and half for sewers.

Bellaire voters rejected a $900,000 school bond issue, but Key School District in Belmont County approved a school issue for $480,000.

Paulding County voters turned down an .8-mill levy for their county hospital, but a .65-mill levy for Pomerain Memorial Hospital in Millersburg carried.

Youngstown turned down proposed pay raises for city council and council president, but approved a charter change to provide a city board of health.

The city of Warren rejected a proposal for fluoridation of the city water supply by an 8,456 to 5,982 vote.

Baseball Czar To Ponder PCL Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's back in business today with Commissioner Ford Frick setting up a tete-a-tete over who pays whom how much on the West Coast.

The Pacific Coast League has challenged the big boys and says it will go to court, if need be, to determine how lawful baseball law really is.

The "Interested parties," as Frick described them, have asked for a meeting of minds on the problem. The meeting will be in Frick's office here Thursday.

Frick made no mention of the question of compensation to the PCL for the switch of the Giants to San Francisco and the Dodgers to Los Angeles. "Just a discussion of the reorganization of the Pacific Coast League and questions of realignment," said Frick.

But the PCL, firm in its no-dough, no-go stand, already has voted to consider realignment and compensation as a package deal.

The gimmick is that it's a bit unprecedented. The rules for baseball's brass provide for an arbitration committee to settle deadlocks over compensation for territorial invasion. That rule never has been challenged or even invoked. Now the PCL, setting up its own committee on compensation, has said it may go to court to determine whether it is liable to arbitration and also whether the National League, not just the Dodgers and Giants, isn't liable to payment of damages.

Guy Fawkes Recalled; Old Crypts Searched

LONDON (AP)—As they do annually before the opening of the British Parliament, Yeomen of the Guard searched the crypts of Parliament building Tuesday to see that no one was trying to blow up the place.

The search this year was particularly fitting. Parliament's opening came on Guy Fawkes Day, anniversary of the abortive gunpowder plot in 1605 to blow up James I and his lawmakers.

AP Guesspert Tries Again To Pick Winners

Texas A&M, Oklahoma, Iowa, Ohio State Get Nod in Saturday Tilts

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Picking this week's college football winners on the back of a discarded ballot:

Texas A & M over Southern Methodist: The Mustangs have their offense in high gear but they are headed for a stone wall here.

Auburn over Mississippi State: Only two touchdowns have been scored against Auburn all season. How can you beat them if you can't score?

Iowa over Minnesota: Minnesota has the power.

Michigan State over Notre Dame: This is a must game for both. The pick is Michigan State.

Michigan over Illinois.

Arkansas over Rice: But it will be close.

Mississippi over Louisiana State LSU has two good backs, Mississippi has two good teams.

FRIDAY

Miami over Florida State.

Bulldogs Lose To Scioto Team

Bloomingburg's Bulldogs varsity lost their second game of the new basketball season Tuesday night as they bowed to a Scioto Township five, 68-61, on the Pickaway County floor.

The Bloomingburg reserves won 28-28.

Using Duck Bait Brings 5 Fines

TOLEDO (AP)—Five men pleaded guilty Tuesday to hunting ducks in baited areas. U. S. Commissioner John J. Barone fined them and gave them 30-day suspended jail sentences.

Arthur Kruck, 59, of Sandusky, and Ralph Scharman, 43, of Huron were arrested Oct. 25 after Kruck invited charman to a hunting trip in the Kruck marsh in Erie County. Kruck was fined $200 and costs; Scharman $75 and costs.

The other three, all Toledoans, were arrested Oct. 18 in Spross marsh in Ottawa County.

J. Paul Upson, 64, who pleaded guilty in 1955 to hunting in the same marsh, was fined $200. Edward Wright, 45, and George Merrill, 56, each were fined $75.

Tied by Circleville, Tigers Clinch Title!

Although a 13-13 tie was the best Greenfield's Tigers could do against the Tigers at Circleville Tuesday night when they played off a postponed game, that was enough to put the clincher on the 1957 Southcentral Ohio (SCO) League championship.

That game completed the schedule for the Greenfielders, but the Circleville Club still have another game to play. They meet the Lions of WHS there Friday night—and the outcome of that game could determine whether the Lions finish second or third or in a tie with Wilmington's Hurricane for second.

While the Greenfield boys were being unexpectedly deadlocked by Circleville, the Hurricane was keeping in the race by blanking Hillsboro's Indians, 20 to 0, Tuesday night in another postponed game playoff.

Like Circleville, Wilmington still has one game to play with Washington C. H. It will be here Nov. 15, the Homecoming and Band Night.

* * *

Wash. C. H.	1	1	0
Wilmington	2	1	0
Hillsboro	1	3	0
Circleville	0	2	1

The Washington C. H. coaching staff came back from scouting the Greenfield game at Circleville convinced that the Circlevillians are better than their winless SCO record shows and that the Lions will have their hands full when they go to Circleville Friday night for their next-to-last game of the season.

Coach Fred Domenico said the Tigers do "quite a bit of passing" with Quarterback Hosler pitching to both ends and backfield. He said, too, that "they have some good running plays and execute them well. . .we'll have our hands full stopping them."

* * *

BUT ON the brighter side, Domenico said the Lions are "full of determination to win their next two games and they know neither Circleville nor Wilmington will be a pushover."

The Lions will work on their defense Wednesday evening "because it will have to be changed some to handle the Circleville offense."

Domenico said the Lions may take to the air at Circleville more than they have in previous games this year. Buddy Lynch and Chuck Hire both are improving as passers, he pointed out and added that the receivers have been doing better, too.)

Kenny Evans, right halfback, has been out with flu, but he is expected to be in shape by Friday night.

Canadian Bidding for Sulky Crown

COLUMBUS — Billy Haughton, harness racing's leading dash winning driver since 1953, is facing a strong challenger for his crown this season in young William D. Gilmour of Ridgeway, Ontario, whose autumn rush has carried him to within six victories of the lead.

Tabulations by the U.S. Trotting Assn. for races through Nov. 2, credit Haughton with 148 dashes while Gilmour has finished in front on 142 occasions. This season officially closes Nov. 30.

Driving almost exclusively at western New York's Batavia Downs track, Gilmour set a torrid pace for the last four weeks with 32 victories while Haughton, driving at Roosevelt Raceway, N. Y., and commuting to California's Hollywood Park on weekends, was registering 20 successes.

While only 25 years of age, Gilmour is no newcomer to driving honors. He finished third in the national standing last year with 139 dash triumphs and third in 1955 with 115. Haughton won last year with 167 wins and the 34-year-old Brookville, N. Y., reinsman also topped the money-winning list for the fifth straight year. Haughton again is leading in this category this season.

Wilson, LeBaron Pace Pro Gridders

Wilson has gained 496 yards on 97 attempts, a 5.1 yard average.

LeBaron has thrown 74 times and completed 47 for 751 yards and an average per attempt of 10.15 yards. Tommy O'Connell of the Browns is next with a 9.27 yard gain per attempt and Lamar McHan of the Chicago Cardinals is third at 8.70.

Ted and Stan Top Honor '9'

AP Announces 1957 Major Loop All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Batting champions Ted Williams and Stan Musial, five members of the world champion Milwaukee Braves and three from the New York Yankees today were named to The Associated Press major league All-Star team for 1957.

Williams and Musial, the only players from non pennant-winning clubs to make the All-Stars, collected the largest number of votes among 182 members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of American, who participated in the AP poll.

The remainder of the squad was made up of second baseman Red Schoendienst, third baseman Ed Mathews, outfielder Hank Aaron and pitchers Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette of the Braves; and shortstop Gil McDougald, outfielder Mickey Mantle and catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees.

The closest vote was between second sackers Schoendienst and the White Sox' Nellie Fox. The Milwaukee star was named on 93 ballots and Fox on 86. Another tight one was in the righthanded pitcher category in which Burdette had 75 votes and Jim Bunning of Detroit 66.

Five of the all-stars batted higher than 300. Williams topped the American League with .388. Musial was first in the National with .351. Mantle finished with .365, Aaron .322 and Schoendienst .309. Mathews wound up at .292, McDougald .289 and Berra .251.

Spahn, with a 21-11 record, reached the 20-mark for the eighth time. Burdette won three World Series games after a 17-9 season slate.

Willie Mays, the Giants' star, was named on 83 ballots and finished fourth among the outfielders. Washington outfielder Roy Sievers, the American League's home run and runs batted in champion, received 20 votes.

Here Are More News Briefs From Midwest Grid Camps

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest Football Briefs:

Iowa — The reserves went through a long scrimmage but the first two teams merely jogged around and called it quits. Coach Forest Evashevski warned his players that "Minnesota is exceptionally dangerous."

Ohio State—The Bucks are getting better says Coach Woody Hayes but he fears Purdue. Hayes praised his "diversified offense" and warned Ohio State would "open up when the occasion demands."

Michigan—Injuries have hit the Michigan camp. Quarterback Jim Van Pelt has a pulled leg muscle and halfback Gary Prahst has a sore shoulder. Others sidelined are guard Larry Faul and guard Alex Callahan.

Michigan State — No injuries were suffered by the Spartans in their 21-7 victory over Wisconsin. Notre Dame is next at East Lansing.

Minnesota—The Gophers spent two hours looking over Iowa plays. Every squad member was in uniform except fullback Bob Blakely who has the flu. Blakely is expected to be ready by Saturday.

Purdue — Guard John Jardine might miss the Ohio State game because of a sprained ankle. Bill Spillane moved into Jardine's spot.

Indiana—Wingback Dave Whitsell suffered a possible broken toe and might miss the Cincinnati game. Guard Don Howell received a four-stitch chin cut in the Minnesota game.

Wisconsin — Sophomore tackle Lowell Jenkins was the only casualty of the Michigan State game and will be out the rest of the season with a bone chip in his wrist.

Illinois—Four regulars are sidelined and may miss the Michigan game. They include halfback Dale Smith, end Ron Hill, guard Bill Burrell and tackle Don Yeazel.

Political mudslinging began in ancient Rome. All candidates for office wore the white toga. If they were unpopular, people threw mud at them until their white raiment became the toga defiled by mud.

Indian Chieftains Eye New Manager

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' executive committee met today and the Cleveland Plain Dealer predicted the selection of Bill DeWitt as the club's new general manager.

DeWitt, onetime co-owner of the St. Louis Browns with his brother, and former assistant GM of the New York Yankees, now controls the purse strings of the major league fund set up for needy minors.

But the Chicago American reports that Frank Lane, GM of the St. Louis Cardinals, now is the No. 1 Injun choice.

Leading Gridders

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Newman of Washington State College is major college football's new individual offense leader, moving into first place with 1,001 yards made on the ground and through the air.

Statistics released today by the NCAA service bureau show the Cougars' quarterback jumped from sixth a week ago to the top spot by gaining 277 yards against Oregon State last week. He completed 17 of 25 tosses for 243 yards and three touchdowns, but Washington State bowed, 39-25.

4½ Million Pounds of Trash Fish Being Poisoned in Lake

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How would you, as an average angler, react if you found on some pleasant autumn afternoon that someone had purposely poisoned all the fish in a familiar old lake?

It happens, more and more frequently, as modern fish management techniques are applied to lakes around the country.

The idea of poisoning old, unbalanced fishin' holes is old stuff to professionals, but still comes as something of a shock to the individual fisherman when it happens in his own back yard.

The always-increasing pressure to produce more and more game fish for the recreation of more and more fishermen is behind this, as it is behind various other management techniques. In lake rehabilitation, poisoning out the whole native population and starting over with known numbers of properly related species has proved to be a short cut to spectacular success. A lake so handled can be back in production within a year, and within a couple of years can be better than it ever was, in terms of sports fishing.

Biggest such project ever undertaken got underway Monday in water fish commission began a selective eradication campaign in Florida, where the state fresh water fish commission began a selective eradication campaign against gizzard shad in 31,000-acre Lake Apopka.

Nearly a score of boats, assisted by airplanes, took on the job of spreading some 6,000 pounds of rotenone, with the anticipation of killing more than 4½ million pounds of the trash shad from the big lake.

Selective poisoning, as a means of improving fishing, has been demonstrated on some other sizable lakes already in Florida's inland lake improvement program. However, the prospect of 4½ million pounds of dead fish floating—and beaching—in Apopka during the next few days may benefit from all the explaining that can be provided.

And the explaining had best be done to windward.

Good Hope Cagers Lose to Salt Creek

Good Hope High School's Mad Anthony cagers were trounced, 69 to 46, by the cagers from Salt Creek at Good Hope Tuesday night, when they were never able to recover from an 18-11 disadvantage at the end of the first period.

The Salt Creek boys sewed up the game in first and last period scoring sprees that overcame the superiority of the Good Hope boys in the second and third periods.

Overly, with 16, and Osborne and Bonecutter, with 10 each, led the Good Hope scoring.

In the fast analysis, it was a tall boy by the name of Valentine that made the difference. He collected 30 points for Salt Creek.

The Good Hope reserves came from behind to beat the Salt Creek reserves 30 to 25 in the preliminary. Strouth led the Good Hope offense with 10 points.

Bucks Again Sniffing Roses; Will They Do It This Year?

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes are right back where they were a year ago—undefeated in Big Ten play and headed for another Western Conference championship.

Ohio State last year blasted past Illinois, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Indiana but ran into Iowa and Michigan, suffered two straight shutouts and finished in a tie for fourth place.

Again the Bucks, who lost their opener to Texas Christian, have pushed past Illinois, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Indiana. And again they must face Iowa and Michigan. However, there's a change in the script this season. Rapidly improving Purdue comes before Iowa and Michigan.

All Ohio State needs is two victories in the last three games to assure a trip to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl. And if one of the two possible victories comes against Iowa, Coach Woody Hayes' crew also will wind up with the conference title.

One reason that the Bucks are not apt to collapse this season is that Ohio State is eligible for the bowl bid. Last year Ohio State was on probation for Big Ten rules infractions.

Coach Hayes admitted to the Chicago football writers Tuesday over a telephone hookup that he's not sure of his team's "staying power." Neither would he make any comparisons between this team and the 1954 and 1955 teams which won successive Big Ten titles.

Hayes fears Purdue and said the Boilermakers have the "best defense in the conference." That game will be regionally televisd (NBC—1:30 p.m. EST).

The Boilermakers have done an about face after losing their first three games to Notre Dame 12-0, Minnesota 21-17, and Wisconsin 23-14. Purdue now is riding a three game winning streak by knocking off Michigan State 20-13, Miami of Ohio 37-6 and Illinois 21-6.

Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf rates Ohio State as "probably the soundest football team we meet this year." That could very well be true but two other coaches don't consider the Bucks tops.

Ara Parseghian, who saw Ohio State maul his Northwestern Wildcats, 47-6, last Saturday, believes the Bucks will have trouble against Purdue, Iowa and Michigan. "Iowa, especially, has the line to stop Ohio State's inside stuff," said Parseghian.

Coach Milt Bruhn, whose Wisconsin team lost to Iowa, Ohio State and Michigan State in order, believes Michigan State is the best of the three. "I'd have to say that on last Saturday, at least," said Bruhn. "All three, however, are very fine teams."

Bond Issues, Tax Levies Get Bad Reception at Polls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With some notable exceptions, bond issues and special tax levy proposals had a rought time of it in local elections throughout Ohio Tuesday.

Biggest proposed bond issue in the state—15 million dollars for a Civic Center in Cleveland—failed to get the required 55 per cent favorable vote despite strong support by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Cleveland did approve, however, 15 million dollars' worth of bonds for highways, bridges and a new incinerator.

Summit County voters turned thumbs down on a 4½-million dollar courthouse and jail in Akron. In suburban Cuyahoga Falls, a 2½-million-dollar bond issue for an expressway relocation of Ohio 8 was defeated when it failed to muster the needed 55 per cent favorable vote.

Geauga County voters decided they could do without a proposed $425,000 jail and office building, but voters approved nearly $800,000 worth of bonds in three Geauga County school districts.

Lakewood, a Cleveland suburb, approved a 1¾-million-dollar bond issue to replace its 83-year-old City Hall.

A 3½-million-dollar bond issue for new city schools in Elyria fell short of the required 55 per cent favorable vote. A 4½-million-dollar bond issue for a new Lorain County Courthouse was beaten more than 2-1.

Chillicothe voters, however, approved a 4½-million-dollar issue for new schools. They went a step further by approving a city income tax imposed by council last spring.

Greenfield defeated a $775,000 school bond issue. Eaton gave the same treatment to a $700,000 school issue.

A number of municipal operating levies fared badly, but school operating levies did better.

Preble, Wyandot and Highland counties reported all their levies were approved.

But Elyria rejected a four-mill city levy and Painesville turned down a similar levy. East Palestine defeated a one-mill city levy, but approved a three-mill school levy.

Alliance turned down both a four-mill city levy and a 3½-mill levy for schools.

Carrollton voted down a three-mill operating levy, leaving the village without funds to pay salaries except for firemen who are paid from a different fund.

Dayton voters went along with two levies, one to build a juvenile center, the other to operate it.

Ashtabula city voters approved a 3½-mill renewal levy for schools and added another three mills for school purposes. Ashtabula Harbor school district approved a $670,000 bond issue for new buildings.

Fremont approved a six-mill school operating levy, three mills new, but Sandusky County voters turned down a $1,135,000 bond issue for a new county home for the aged.

Cleveland voters approved a 1.2-mill, three-year school levy to complete an 18-million-dollar building program. Aso approved overwhelmingly was a bond issue to purchase the former Cleveland Plain Dealer building as an annex to the Cleveland Library.

Woodville, Sandusky County, approved a $320,000 school bond issue and Helena in the same county approved a $145,000 school issue.

East Liverpool approved a two-mill, two-year street light levy.

Toledo approved a 3.6-mill, five-year school operating levy estimated to provide three million dollars annually. More than half the amount will go for teacher pay increases.

Lakewood approved a 10-mill school levy, 2.2 mills of it new.

St. Marys approved a $995,000 school bond issue.

Wauseon approved $500,000 in bonds, half for schools and half for sewers.

Hocking County defeated a 2-mill operating levy.

Bellaire voters rejected a $900,000 school bond issue, but Key School District in Belmont County approved a school issue for $480,000.

Paulding County voters turned down an .8-mill levy for their county hospital, but a .65-mill levy for Pomerain Memorial Hospital in Millersburg carried.

Youngstown turned down proposed pay raises for city council and council president, but approved a charter change to provide a city board of health.

The city of Warren rejected a proposal for fluoridation of the city water supply by an 8,456 to 5,982 vote.

Baseball Czar To Ponder PCL Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's back in business today with Commissioner Ford Frick setting up a tete-a-tete over who pays whom how much on the West Coast.

The Pacific Coast League has challenged the big boys and says it will go to court, if need be, to determine how lawful baseball law really is.

The "Interested parties," as Frick described them, have asked for a meeting of minds on the problem. The meeting will be in Frick's office here Thursday.

Frick made no mention of the question of compensation to the PCL for the switch of the Giants to San Francisco and the Dodgers to Los Angeles. "Just a discussion of the reorganization of the Pacific Coast League and questions of realignment," said Frick.

But the PCL, firm in its no-dough, no-go stand, already has voted to consider realignment and compensation as a package deal.

The gimmick is that it's a bit unprecedented. The rules for baseball's brass provide for an arbitration committee to settle deadlocks over compensation for territorial invasion. That rule never has been challenged or even invoked. Now the PCL, setting up its own committee on compensation, has said it may go to court to determine whether it is liable to arbitration and also whether the National League, not just the Dodgers and Giants, isn't liable to payment of damages.

Guy Fawkes Recalled; Old Crypts Searched

LONDON (AP)—As they do annually before the opening of the British Parliament, Yeomen of the Guard searched the crypts of Parliament building Tuesday to see that no one was trying to blow up the place.

The search this year was particularly fitting. Parliament's opening came on Guy Fawkes Day, anniversary of the abortive gunpowder plot in 1605 to blow up James I and his lawmakers.

Senators Plan Probe of U. S. Missile Setup

Ike To Report To Nation on TV Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee moved today to wring out any complacency remaining in the United States missiles program as President Eisenhower hurried a report on the nation's progress.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced Tuesday the Senate Preparedness subcommittee he heads will launch a hard-hitting inquiry into the missile and satellite programs.

Its purpose will be not to assess blame for delays, he said, but to help correct the "errors" he said have caused U. S. efforts in the rocketry field to lag behind those of Russia.

About the same time, the White House in a quick change of plans announced that Eisenhower will address the nation by television and radio Thursday night on "science and security." He had scheduled a speech on that subject Nov. 13 in Oklahoma City.

Eisenhower was expected to try to relieve anxiety and reply to criticisms that have developed since Russia launched the first earth satellite—since followed by a second—a month ago.

* * *

Johnson said "we are lagging in both satellite and missile programs, but there is no reason to believe we can't catch up if we apply the necessary willpower, manpower and money to the problems involved."

He said he was convinced of that after a lengthy Pentagon briefing Monday which he attended along with Sens. Russell (D-Ga) and Bridges (R-NH).

Eisenhower's half-hour speech on Thursday will be carried live by CBS radio and television at 8 p.m. EST. ABC-TV will carry a kinescope of it at 10:30 and NBC at 11:15. Other radio networks will carry delayed broadcasts.

In announcing plans for the address, the White House said Eisenhower canceled his scheduled news conference today because he "will cover much of the same ground in his address to the people as would be developed in press conference replies."

The White House announcement did not mention that the Thursday speech will coincide with the 40th anniversary of the Russian Communist revolution, which is being celebrated in Moscow.

Hospital Insurance Case before Court

A court case to establish who should pay premiums on a hospital professional liability insurance policy was heard by Judge John P. Case in Common Pleas Court Wednesday.

The case took the form of a petition for a writ of mandamas and declaratory judgment against the Fayette county commissioners, the county auditor and the county treasurer, filed by the Fayette County Hospital Board.

Decision on the petition, which asks that the county pay $699.33 in insurance payments, will be handed down later by Judge John P. Case.

The hospital board said in its petition that they purchased a hospital professional liability insurance policy in 1956 on which the county is required to pay the premium.

County officials filed no answer or demurrer and were not represented by coursel.

Total premium on the policy over a three-year period is 1,160.21., of which $460.88 was paid last year by the county, the petition states.

Mrs. Fern Chaffin, secretary of the hospital board, and County Commissioner Robert Cockerill were the only witnesses called.

John Edgar Wood, 31, of 628 Delaware St., driver of the car that hit Ludwick, told police he was rounding a corner from Main St. onto Court St. and did not see Ludwick.

Ludwick was walking in the Court St. crosswalk. Wood was slated to appear in Municipal Court here later on a charge of failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

TWO OTHER accidents reported to police Tuesday both occurred on North St. between 12:30 and 1 p. m.

Betty Mathews, 28, of Miami Trace Rd., had stopped at the Paint St. intersection about 12:30 p. m. when her auto was hit in the rear by a car driven by Margaret Bryant, 43, of Greenfield. Damage was slight.

A car driven by Elmer Thomas, 67, of 321 E. Market St., was attempting to turn from Court St. onto North St. about 12:55 p. m., when an auto driven by Clyde Alvin Bower, 19, of 1015 Cedar St., crossed the intersection and hit his car. Blaze Destroys Storage Building

City firemen were called at 10:37 a. m. to 713 Sycamore St., where a small one-story barn, used for storage of junk was ablaze. Flames so damaged the building that the main beam had to be knocked down after the blaze was extinguished a half hour later.

Fire Chief George Hall said an investigation will be made.

The city's old Ahrens - Fox pumper had to be put into service at 11:14 a. m. when firemen were called to 229 Delaware St., to answer another call before the regular - duty pumper had returned from the Haines blaze.

New Martinsburg School Has 100 Pct. Attendance

Attendance was 100 per cent for the first ime in about five weeks, according to school officials. Flu has hit the school, as it has all others in the county, during the past five weeks. Tuesday the school reported 8.3 per cent of its students away from their desks.

Flu continues to plague the teaching staff as 12 teachers were absent from their classes in the Miami Trace schools and three teachers were absent from the city schools. That is an improvement over Tuesday's figures when 16 teachers and one janitor were absent from county schools and five teachers were away from city classes.

Walter Boyer, Miami Trace superintendent, reported that Wilson school will open Thursday morning for the first time this week. The school was closed Monday morning when four teachers and one janitor failed to report because of the flu. Two of the ailing teachers and the janitor reported Wednesday that they were able to return.

Attendance in the city schools was improved Wednesday from the day before, according to superintendent W. A. Smith. Wednesday's absentee percentage was 15.9 compared with 18.2 per cent Tuesday.

* * *

TWO Miami Trace schools reported heavier absences Wednesday than Tuesday. Marion school's percentage Wednesday was 16.3 above the 10.2 per cent Tuesday. Wayne school reported 10.6 of its students absent Wednesday, just one-half of 1 per cent over Tuesday's figures.

All other county schools had better attendance. Jeffersonville had 17 per cent absent Wednesday (17.5 per cent Tuesday); Bookwalter had 28.3 per cent absent Wednesday (32 per cent Tuesday); Staunton was improved with 17.4 per cent absent Wednesday (22.6 per cent were absent Tuesday); Eber had 16.9 per cent absent Wednesday (21.2 per cent were absent Tuesday); Milledgeville had 10.8 per cent absent Wednesday (14.4 per cent Tuesday); Bloomingburg had 11.1 per cent absent Wednesday (14 per cent Tuesday), and Madison Mills attendance was up Wednesday with 8.3 per cent absent (8.6 per cent were absent Tuesday). Chaffin school had 13 per cent absent Wednesday and 18 per cent absent Monday. The percentage of absences Tuesday was not available.

Boyer reported that Olive School was open but that attendance figures were not available.

* * *

Smith said that 361 of the city's students were away from their desks Wednesday. By schools their absent students numbered as follows: Central, 85 (93 Tuesday); Cherry Hill, 35 (35 Tuesday); Eastside, 56 (56 Tuesday); Rose Avenue, 51 (61 Tuesday); Sunnyside, 51 (57 Tuesday); high school, 83 (112, Tuesday).

The 12 teachers absent from their Miami Trace schools were: Jeffersonville, Mrs. Rosella Binegar and Mrs. Darlene Lemelly; Bookwalter, Mrs. Inez Whiteside; Wilson, Mrs. Clarabella Patton and Mrs. Georganna Stewart; Wayne, Mrs. Grace Judy; Chaffin, Mrs. Hazel Brackney; Bloomingburg, G. H. Biddle, Mrs. G. H. Biddle. Mrs. Howard Foster and Mrs. Nellie Mossbarger, and Madison Mills. Mrs. Lulu Thomas.

Absent from the city school system were Mrs. Ruth Rider, Mrs Dorothy Giebelhouse and Herbert Russell.

Ike To Report To Nation on TV Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee moved today to wring out any complacency remaining in the United States missiles program as President Eisenhower hurried a report on the nation's progress.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced Tuesday the Senate Preparedness subcommittee he heads will launch a hard-hitting inquiry into the missile and satellite programs.

Its purpose will be not to assess blame for delays, he said, but to help correct the "errors" he said have caused U. S. efforts in the rocketry field to lag behind those of Russia.

About the same time, the White House in a quick change of plans announced that Eisenhower will address the nation by television and radio Thursday night on "science and security." He had scheduled a speech on that subject Nov. 13 in Oklahoma City.

Eisenhower was expected to try to relieve anxiety and reply to criticisms that have developed since Russia launched the first earth satellite—since followed by a second—a month ago.

* * *

JOHNSON, formally announcing his probe, said a starting date and detailed procedures have not been worked out, but forecast an early start.

Johnson said "we are lagging in both satellite and missile programs, but there is no reason to believe we can't catch up if we apply the necessary willpower, manpower and money to the problems involved."

He said he was convinced of that after a lengthy Pentagon briefing Monday which he attended along with Sens. Russell (D-Ga) and Bridges (R-NH).

Eisenhower's half-hour speech on Thursday will be carried live by CBS radio and television at 8 p.m. EST. ABC-TV will carry a kinescope of it at 10:30 and NBC at 11:15. Other radio networks will carry delayed broadcasts.

In announcing plans for the address, the White House said Eisenhower canceled his scheduled news conference today because he "will cover much of the same ground in his address to the people as would be developed in press conference replies."

The White House announcement did not mention that the Thursday speech will coincide with the 40th anniversary of the Russian Communist revolution, which is being celebrated in Moscow.

Hospital Insurance Case before Court

A court case to establish who should pay premiums on a hospital professional liability insurance policy was heard by Judge John P. Case in Common Pleas Court Wednesday.

The case took the form of a petition for a writ of mandamas and declaratory judgment against the Fayette county commissioners, the county auditor and the county treasurer, filed by the Fayette County Hospital Board.

Decision on the petition, which asks that the county pay $699.33 in insurance payments, will be handed down later by Judge John P. Case.

The hospital board said in its petition that they purchased a hospital professional liability insurance policy in 1956 on which the county is required to pay the premium.

County officials filed no answer or demurrer and were not represented by coursel.

Total premium on the policy over a three-year period is 1,160.21., of which $460.88 was paid last year by the county, the petition states.

Mrs. Fern Chaffin, secretary of the hospital board, and County Commissioner Robert Cockerill were the only witnesses called.

Man, 75, Hit By Automobile

Driver Cited After Accident

A 75-year old man suffered a dislocated shoulder when he was knocked down by an auto at the intersection of Court and Main Sts. about 2 p. m. Tuesday.

John Edgar Wood, 31, of 628 Delaware St., driver of the car that hit Ludwick, told police he was rounding a corner from Main St. onto Court St. and did not see Ludwick.

Ludwick was walking in the Court St. crosswalk. Wood was slated to appear in Municipal Court here later on a charge of failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

* * *

TWO OTHER accidents reported to police Tuesday both occurred on North St. between 12:30 and 1 p. m.

Betty Mathews, 28, of Miami Trace Rd., had stopped at the Paint St. intersection about 12:30 p. m. when her auto was hit in the rear by a car driven by Margaret Bryant, 43, of Greenfield. Damage was slight.

A car driven by Elmer Thomas, 67, of 321 E. Market St., was attempting to turn from Court St. onto North St. about 12:55 p. m., when an auto driven by Clyde Alvin Bower, 19, of 1015 Cedar St., crossed the intersection and hit his car. Bower told police his view had been blocked by another car in the intersection. Damage was light.

Blaze Destroys Storage Building

City firemen were called at 10:37 a. m. to 713 Sycamore St., where a small one-story barn, used for storage of junk was ablaze. Flames so damaged the building that the main beam had to be knocked down after the blaze was extinguished a half hour later.

Harley Haines, who lives at the address, discovered the fire. He said he had no idea how it started. Another fire a week ago gutted a coal shed just in front of the barn.

Fire Chief George Hall said an investigation will be made.

The city's old Ahrens - Fox pumper had to be put into service at 11:14 a. m. when firemen were called to 229 Delaware St., to answer another call before the regular - duty pumper had returned from the Haines blaze.

Curtains and woodwork were damaged in the second fire, which occurred at the home of Mrs. Frank Adams. Cause was undetermined.

New Martinsburg School Has 100 Pct. Attendance

There was good news on the influenza front from the New Martinsburg school Wednesday.

Attendance was 100 per cent for the first ime in about five weeks, according to school officials. Flu has hit the school, as it has all others in the county, during the past five weeks. Tuesday the school reported 8.3 per cent of its students away from their desks.

Flu continues to plague the teaching staff as 12 teachers were absent from their classes in the Miami Trace schools and three teachers were absent from the city schools. That is an improvement over Tuesday's figures when 16 teachers and one janitor were absent from county schools and five teachers were away from city classes.

Walter Boyer, Miami Trace superintendent, reported that Wilson school will open Thursday morning for the first time this week. The school was closed Monday morning when four teachers and one janitor failed to report because of the flu. Two of the ailing teachers and the janitor reported Wednesday that they were able to return.

Attendance in the city schools was improved Wednesday from the day before, according to superintendent W. A. Smith. Wednesday's absentee percentage was 15.9 compared with 18.2 per cent Tuesday.

TWO Miami Trace schools reported heavier absences Wednesday than Tuesday. Marion school's percentage Wednesday was 16.3 above the 10.2 per cent Tuesday. Wayne school reported 10.6 of its students absent Wednesday, just one-half of 1 per cent over Tuesday's figures.

All other county schools had better attendance. Jeffersonville had 17 per cent absent Wednesday (17.5 per cent Tuesday); Bookwalter had 28.3 per cent absent Wednesday (32 per cent Tuesday); Staunton was improved with 17.4 per cent absent Wednesday (22.6 per cent were absent Tuesday); Eber had 16.9 per cent absent Wednesday (21.2 per cent were absent Tuesday); Milledgeville had 10.8 per cent absent Wednesday (14.4 per cent Tuesday); Bloomingburg had 11.1 per cent absent Wednesday (14 per cent Tuesday), and Madison Mills attendance was up Wednesday with 8.3 per cent absent (8.6 per cent were absent Tuesday). Chaffin school had 13 per cent absent Wednesday and 18 per cent absent Monday. The percentage of absences Tuesday was not available.

Boyer reported that Olive school was open but that attendance figures were not available.

Smith said that 361 of the city's students were away from their desks Wednesday. By schools their absent students numbered as follows: Central, 85 (93 Tuesday); Cherry Hill, 35 (35 Tuesday); Eastside, 56 (56 Tuesday); Rose Avenue, 51 (61 Tuesday); Sunnyside, 51 (57 Tuesday); high school, 83 (112, Tuesday).

The 12 teachers absent from their Miami Trace schools were: Jeffersonville, Mrs. Rosella Binegar and Mrs. Darlene Lemelly; Bookwalter, Mrs. Inez Whiteside; Wilson, Mrs. Clarabella Patton and Mrs. Georganna Stewart; Wayne, Mrs. Grace Judy; Chaffin, Mrs. Hazel Brackney; Bloomingburg, G. H. Biddle, Mrs. G. H. Biddle. Mrs. Howard Foster and Mrs. Nellie Mossbarger, and Madison Mills. Mrs. Lulu Thomas.

Absent from the city school system were Mrs. Ruth Rider, Mrs Dorothy Giebelhouse and Herbert Russell.
